INDIVIDUAL SETTLEMENTS MAY PROVE BASIS FOR RAIL PEACE

Big Five Brotherhood Chiefs and Representatives of Score of Railroads to Thresh Out Possibility of Individual Lines Settling With Strikers

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press) Representatives of a score of railroads and the big five brotherhood chiefs this morning conferred at the Yale club for about three hours on the possibility of effecting separate agreements between individual lines and their striking shopmen. "We are still mediating," said Warren S. Stone, spokesman for the brotherhood men, when the meeting adjourned at 1:25 p. m., without announcing whether another session would be held today.

Blacksmith Charged With Cutting off Six-Year-Old Daughter's Finger Tips

BAYONNE, N. J., Aug. 24.—William H. Moore, a blacksmith, was arrested today charged with cutting off his six-year-old daughter's finger tips, and burning her hands by holding them over a stove. Moore denied the charges, saying she injured herself while he was punishing her.

SERIOUSLY INJURED IN FALL FROM ROOF

Homer McHaffey of 7 March avenue, Worcester, who was employed on the erection of the new plant for the Talbot mills in North Billerica, is in a serious condition as a result of a fall from the roof of the new building this morning. As far as could be learned the man is suffering from broken ribs and injuries to his head and body.

WOMEN MAY SMOKE ON WORCESTER STREETS

WORCESTER, Aug. 24.—Flappers, old maids or society belles may publicly puff their favorite brands of cigarettes on the streets of this city without fear of having their knuckles rapped or being humiliated or assaulted by any officer of the Worcester police department, declared Chief of Police Hill today. "I know of no law making it a crime for any woman to smoke what, when and where she pleases."

SKULL FRACTURED
While playing with companions near his home in Fowler road yesterday, Frederick Edwards, aged seven years, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Edwards, of 91 Fowler road, fell into cellar and sustained a fractured skull. He was taken to the Lowell General hospital, where it was stated today that although the little fellow is resting comfortably, his name has been placed on the dangerous list.

COAL SUPPLY FOR SCHOOLS

Considerable Concern is Felt Here Relative to the Coal Situation

The School Department Has Some Soft Coal But No Anthracite

It was admitted at city hall today that the coal situation is causing considerable concern locally with the school season only a couple of weeks away.

Mayor Brown said today that he had called a conference of Supply Chief Williams of the school department and Purchasing Agent Donnelly for the latter part of the week at which time the matter would be thoroughly gone into. Right at the present time the school department has some soft coal on hand, but it has no anthracite, according to the mayor. A shortage of domestic anthracite is considered a rather serious proposition for the school authorities to buck up against.

There is no one connected with educational lines who wants to consider the closing of schools in the midst of PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 24.—Miss Mary A. Davidson, 18-year-old daughter of Sidney A. Davidson, Y.M.C.A. president, and Mrs. Davidson, of Brockton, Mass., died at Providence Island last night from sleeping sickness a few minutes after her father had been by motor car and motor boat here with two doctors from Brockton.

NOTIFY COAL MINERS TO RETURN TO WORK

ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press)—Union leaders today were notifying their 45,000 miners in the central Pennsylvania field to return to work immediately, while operators were rushing plans that will mean production of thirty million tons of coal a year. This activity followed the signing of an agreement last night.

Both sides today heralded the agreement as a victory.

STATE POLICE AT WARE MILL

WARE, Aug. 24.—Four state policemen arrived here today to assist the Ware police in patrol duty at the mills of the Ods company, which re-opened recently. The company, in requesting the presence of the officers, said that more employees would return to work if assured of protection.

Mayor Brown Says Local Mills Should Take Back Operatives at Old Wage Scale

That the local mills are in good financial condition at the present time and that there is no reason for the wage cuts, is the opinion of Mayor George H. Brown, who has made public his stand regarding the strikes in an open letter. He further believes that the mills should at once take back their employees at the old wage scale and that the sooner such a step is taken the better.

The mayor says that general conditions throughout the country point to a rapid return of prosperity; that the action of the steel mills, the action of the Pacific mills in Lawrence and the general conditions of the stock market indicate that the country is on the verge of inflation.

"General conditions throughout the country indicate a rapid return of prosperity. The raise in wages by the United States Steel company, the many other things point to the fact that the country is now entering upon a period of great prosperity. It is pretty well understood in well informed circles that there is no justification for reduction of wages at this time. The attitude of the Lawrence mill owners, attempting to arrive at a settlement for their employees also indicates these corporations can well afford to pay the wages demanded by the employees."

DISORDERS NEAR ST. AUGUSTINE CAR SHOPS—EXPLOSIONS HEARD

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 24.—Reports received here by telephone last night said grave disorders are occurring at St. Augustine. The city's fire apparatus has been rushed to the section known as "New St. Augustine" it was said, and loud explosions were occurring intermittently. The Florida East Coast Railroad has a shop plant at that place.

CLUB LAFAYETTE HOLDS ANNUAL OUTING

Club Lafayette held its annual outing this afternoon at the Martin Luther grounds in Tyngsboro. The affair was attended by about 200 members and friends of the organization.

The excursionists left the clubrooms in Wampalancet street at 1 o'clock and went over the road to the neighboring town. About 50 automobiles conveyed the picnicers to the outing grounds and the trip proved very pleasing.

Upon reaching the grounds a buffet luncheon was served and then the repaired to the field, where sports of all kinds were carried out, a feature of the afternoon's program being a baseball game between the married and unmarried men.

At 3 o'clock all sat down to a banquet which was served at the inner man's needs had been looked after more sporting events were carried out. Governor Cox has accepted the invitation to attend the outing, but when the excursionists left the club at 1 o'clock his Excellency had not arrived.

His Excellency had not arrived. The chairman of the committee received word this morning that the governor would come over the road in his own machine and proceed directly to the outing grounds.

The affair was in charge of the following committee: George H. Bouchard, Z. A. Normandin, J. Z. Chouinard, Wilfrid Ashin, Arthur Turcotte, F. N. Labelle, Joseph A. Gagnon and Arthur J. Lambert.

Was Considering Plans to Redraft Sections of Constitution at Time of Death

DUBLIN, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press) Draped in the tricolor of Ireland, the coffin containing the body of Michael Collins, slain chief of the Free State government was landed here early today from the steamer Classic, and later borne through the streets amid an impressive tribute from the assembled multitude.

The body was taken on a gun carriage preceded by a band of pipers, to St. Vincent's hospital.

CO. M TO START FOR DEVENS TOMORROW

Some 70 men, including two officers of Company M, 181st Infantry, will leave this city tomorrow night, en route to the training camp at Devens where the company will go into camp for 16 days. The mobilization orders call for the assembly of the company at the army in Westford street at 7:30 o'clock. According to strict military discipline two trucks will draw up before the building at company will be in charge of Lt. George D. Crowell, who will have under his command other officers. The commanding officer of the company said today that plans have been completed for the training period and he believed the training period would be one of the most successful in the history of the national guard unit.

Company M is a machine gun company as is every fourth company of the 181st and all of them will be at the Ayer cantonment until Sept. 6.

The 181st is the last of the national guard units to go into training as both the 101st and 103rd have been at the camp for their summer activities. While the men will leave here on trucks, they will march into camp in full military style, as it is planned to complete the last 12 miles of the journey on foot.

The trucks will take the men to a point about one mile and a half outside of West Acton where camp will be made for the night. Saturday morning the company will march into Ayer. Light packs will be in order as during the hot months of the year the heavy packs are seldom ordered on a march of this kind. One thing that will be greatly lessened the work of the camp is the fact that this company carries no rifles. Being a machine gun unit the men are equipped with side arms only.

Labor Day afternoon has been set aside as Lowell Day at the camp. The city officials will be invited to the cantonment to inspect the company on that day.

While the main part of the company leaves tomorrow night the equipment will be shipped along tonight and the advance guard will report tomorrow morning. Two trucks will carry the necessary baggage of the men to the camp tonight. This order has been issued to comply with the one calling for a light pack. The advance guard will consist of a mess sergeant, a cook and three privates. It will arrive at the camp some time late tomorrow morning and will prepare immediately for the coming of the main body.

LAST REGISTRATION SESSIONS BEFORE STATE PRIMARIES

Election Commission Looks for Heavy Registration — Session Tomorrow Night at Morey School—All Day Session Aug. 31

Indications point to a big registration of voters at the coming five sessions of the elections commission which will be held within the next week. At least this is the way the members of the commission view the situation. Registration sessions will be held tomorrow night and on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. These sessions will be the last before the state primaries which take place next month.

The session tomorrow night will be held in the Morey school from 7 until 9 o'clock and will be for voters of wards 3 and 5 only. On the first four days of next week the sessions will be held in the regular quarters at city hall and will be from 4 to 6 and 7 to 9 on the first three days, while on the last day a continuous session will be held from 2 until 9.

Continuous Session
The commission also wishes to call attention to the fact that the session on the last day of the month will be a continuous one. There are many who have offered the excuse for not registering that they were unable to get from their work to city hall in time. The night sessions provide for those people. Others have said that they did not have the time to go home and come back for the night session. The continuous session from 2 until 9 will take care of these people.

It is almost needless to emphasize the fact that the earlier the matter is taken care of by the prospective voter, the better will be for them. A last minute rush will work hardships on both those registering and the registration officers. The commission feels that with four days to register, all those desiring to get in for the primaries will be taken care of. It is necessary for men to bring their poll tax bills with them to show that they have been duly assessed. It is not necessary, however, that these bills be paid in order to register. Women voters are not required to pay the poll tax and need only to present themselves in order to be placed on the lists.

Hold One Session
Early this week the commission held a session in the C.M.A.C. club at which 101 voters were added to the lists. This is considered a goodly number and is sort of an indicator of what is to follow the latter part of this month.

Members of the commission expect a heavy registration owing to the fact that there are so many candidates seeking nomination this fall. Ordinarily, a great deal of work is done by the many people are on vacations and other contributory causes.

When time came for filing nomination papers the barometer showed a heavy registration in prospect. The large number of candidates seeking office means that all of them will come to the polls to have people registered so they may be in a position to receive their vote.

The entrance of the woman voter also makes a great difference. In fact it is almost impossible to estimate the prospective registration figures with present conditions prevailing. In the past, with only the men to register, the commissioners had some kind of an idea of the number that would seek registration.

Many Questions Asked
According to the election commission's office another indicator of what the coming registration will be is evidenced from the number of questions asked.

The coffins of the ancient Egyptians were made of cork.

Mellon Discusses Funding of War Debt

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Funding of the $4,135,000,000 war debt owed by Great Britain to the United States was declared today by Secretary Mellon to have no relation to the war loans made by the United States and Great Britain to other governments or to questions arising in connection with reparations payments of the former central powers.

Unemployed Attack Vienna Buildings

VIENNA, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press)—Several thousand unemployed persons, dissatisfied because the government had rejected or delayed its answer to their demands, unhinged the doors of the parliament building and entered, wrecking the furniture. The police drove them out, using their side arms freely. Fifty of the demonstrators were taken to the hospital. Fresh demonstrations are feared today.

Passed in silence, broken only by the distant crack of snipers' rifles in various parts of the grief-stricken city. The cortege was flanked by a line of Dublin guards, marching in slow time, with the muzzles of their revolvers protruding from the holsters.

Immediately behind came an armed car, bristling with rifles held at all angles, comprising an inconspicuous ending to the mournful procession. Several men who were wounded in the fighting near Bandon, County Cork, Tuesday night, in which Collins lost his life, had accompanied their beloved leader's body on the sea voyage to Dublin.

Among the little band of fighting men who made the last stand with Collins and who followed the body of the slain hero through the Dublin streets, with lowered head, and tear-blinded eyes, was a boyish figure wearing a ragged civilian coat and a winding cap. Across his shoulders he carried a machine gun, the same gun with which, he said afterwards, he had poured a hail of lead into Collins' attackers.

Vivid Story of Fatal Ambush

After the procession, he told an interviewer in a shy and diffident manner, and in a voice often choked by emotion, a vivid story of the fatal ambush.

"The car in which Collins was riding," he said, "was the first to meet the ambushers' fire. There were at least 250 of them against twelve of us. It was about 9 o'clock when we passed through the village. We had not gone over 100 yards along the road when, from both sides, we were caught by a deadly cross of machine gun fire.

"The driver of Collins' car wanted to drive at full speed, but the general ordered him to halt and told us to take cover. He took command of the whole situation and directed the fire against the attackers for nearly an hour. Two machine guns kept up incessant firing at Mick's open car, but up to then no one had been hurt, and it began to look as though the irregulars were going to scatter in order to risk no more casualties.

"It was during a lull in the attackers' fire that Mick noticed a sniper crouching on a bank and knew some distance down the road behind him. Mick immediately went about a dozen yards in his direction with the object of stopping further movement in the rear of the party. At that moment, heavy firing swept across the road from both sides. The gun in the whippet car, which followed had jammed, lessening the effect of our fire.

"The sudden burst of shooting caused Mick to turn around for a few seconds and the next moment I saw him fall to the ground shot through the head. As he lay dying he shouted words of encouragement to his men to go on firing and not mind him. Immediately there were cries of 'My God, Mick is shot.' Men rushed to his assistance. Although bleeding freely from a terribly lacerated wound, he lived 15 minutes, during which he continued to fire his revolver."

VOTE $300,000 FOR COAL INDUSTRY PROBE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—With the Winslow bill proposing a fact-finding investigation of the coal industry by a commission without representation of operators and miners passed by the House, Chairman Borah, of the Senate labor committee, was prepared to call upon today his "pending" Senate bill which, although differing in some respects from the House measure, also has been approved in the main by Pres. Harding.

Passage of the Winslow bill in the House late yesterday by a vote of 322 to 55, followed three separate attempts by Representative Bland, republican, Indiana, to amend the measure so as to provide representation on the commission for miners and operators. The provision for nine members on the commission was retained over attempts to reduce it to five, but the proposal that the cost of the inquiry was reduced from $500,000 to $300,000.

COLOR PEOPLE HOLD ANNUAL OUTING

The annual outing of the colored colony of Malden, is being held at Lakeview today. Three special cars passed through Lowell at noon, all bound for the popular resort where, for the past several years, the annual affair has been held. Despite the fact that a previous outing at the same place resulted in the accidental drowning of one of their number, the picnicers reveled in their anticipation of the usual good time attendant upon their arrival at the lake.

SCHOOL GIRLS HAVE TOO MUCH WORK TO DO

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Girls require more opportunities for play than they get and boys should share domestic tasks with girls, in the opinion of Dr. W. H. Hamer, London's school medical officer. He has come to the conclusion that school girls have too much work to do and that in consequence they suffer more than boys from defective vision, heart disease, anemia and spinal curvature. "These can all be traced to the same set of causes," he says, "less opportunity for play than boys, less time spent in the open air, the performance of household duties, and, in regard to school, a different curriculum." The latter suggestion refers particularly to sewing. "The habitual employment and methods of instruction in which girls are subjected, particularly sewing, are harmful," says Dr. Hamer.

The surface of the earth is one twelve-thousandth that of the sun. Fourteen thousand species of moths and butterflies exist in Brazil.

CAVANAUGH WOULD STOP PROFITEERING

Declaring that he would stop the profiteering by enforcing the statutes as written, Jas. F. Cavanaugh, a candidate for the republican nomination for attorney general, addressed rallies last night at Tower's corner, city hall and Balgo and Bridge streets.

"There has been a good deal of discussion," he said, about unlawful profiteering. I know what a part the various elements, rent, fuel and food play in every household. I know how powerless the individual is to extricate himself from the burden of the high cost of living by his own unaided efforts.

The chief law officer of the commonwealth can do what a plain citizen cannot. Our laws give him the power. One of my opponents is going about the state declaring that if elected attorney-general he will get after the profiteers, but only if the legislature enacts more laws. He says there is no law by which the profiteers can be reached and if elected he will devote his time to having the legislature pass a new law dealing with the sale of the necessities of life. By this statement he openly acknowledges that, if elected attorney-general he will be helpless to remedy the evils of profiteering which press so heavily on the people.

"If this man is really a friend of the people, if he is really equipped with adequate knowledge of the laws of this state, with whose enforcement an attorney-general is entrusted, he should know that there is sufficient law on the statute books today to enable an attorney-general to start on the task of doing away with unlawful profiteering the very day he assumes office.

"I am firmly convinced that we have sufficient law, and if elected attorney-general I will not ask the legislature for any additional laws. I will proceed under the existing law and this unlawful profiteering shall be stopped."

HARD COAL DEADLOCK

Both Sides in Receptive Mood, But Neither Shows Sign of Making First Move

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—While both sides were said to be in a receptive mood today, there was no sign or a move either from the operators or miners toward suggesting a solution of the deadlock over the situation in the hard coal fields.

John A. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, said that he did not know when he would leave the city.

Samuel D. Warriner, president of the Lehigh Coal & Navigation company, who led the operators' representatives in the recent negotiations, held a consultation yesterday with W. J. Richards, president of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company, and both were reported to have been in communication with William A. Glasgow, Jr., the attorney appointed by Secretary of Commerce Hoover to bring the opposing sides in the anthracite controversy together.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Aug. 24.—"There is no doubt that every government, every ministry has the journalists it deserves," said M. He said that "if you wish them to behave as gentlemen, you must treat them as gentlemen. Nothing can be more important or more beneficial under the present circumstances when the world has just emerged from the most terrible of wars, than for one country to keep the others informed of the exact state of affairs. Agencies and papers are the only means we possess for doing that."

It is none of its business to try and take the place of the press, by founding press bureaus, more or less in disguise, so as to sway public opinion. Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With Othine—Double Strength

This preparation for the treatment of freckles is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of Othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee. —Adv.

FIRST PRINTING PRESS

Historic Press to Be Exhibited
in Front of The Sun Building, Friday

The first printing press ever used in the United States will be on exhibition in front of The Sun building on Friday, August 25, at 10 a. m.

It is the old Stephen Daye press and was brought to Boston in 1638 and set up in Cambridge. Later it passed into the hands of Samuel Green, whose descendants took it to New London, Conn., where it remained until 1773. It was then taken to Norwich, Conn. Five years later it was moved to Dresden, now Haverhill, New Hampshire. From there it went to Westminster, Vermont, where on February 12, 1781, it was used for printing The Vermont Gazette or Green Mountain Post Boy, the first newspaper published in Vermont. In 1782 it was moved to Windsor, Vermont, and used for printing the Vermont Journal and Universal Advertiser. It is now in the possession of the Vermont Historical society and preserved at the state capital, Montpelier.

Through the kindness of this society it has been loaned for exhibition at the Second Educational Graphic Arts Exposition, in Boston, August 28, Sept. 2.

It will be brought over the road from Montpelier in an especially constructed Packard truck, arranged for through the courtesy of B. Frank Neer, sales manager of the Packard Motor Car company.

That people along the way may have an opportunity to see this historic press the following schedule has been arranged and will be followed as closely as circumstances will permit.

Leave Montpelier—Thursday, August 24.

Montpelier—1 a. m. Eastern standard time.

Wells River—3 a. m. eastern standard time 35.2 miles.

Haverhill—10 a. m. eastern standard time 5.6 miles.

West Plymouth eastern standard time 3.3 miles.

Franklin—1.30-2.30 p. m. eastern standard time 27.2 miles.

Concord—3.30 p. m. eastern standard time 15.2 miles.

Manchester 5 p. m. Daylight saving time 1.4 miles.

Over night to Manchester—Leave Manchester—Friday, August 25.

Manchester—8 a. m. Daylight saving time.

Nashua—9 a. m. Daylight saving time.

Lowell—10 a. m. Daylight saving time.

Boston—11 a. m. Daylight saving time.

The whole trip is 202 miles. The stop over in Manchester has been arranged so that all traveling may be done in daylight and give people a chance to see the oldest press in the country.

Mr. Joseph J. Dallas, director of the Second Educational Graphic Arts Exposition will accompany the party and Mr. J. P. Feich will drive the truck.

FALL RIVER WOMEN MAY SMOKE IN PUBLIC

FALL RIVER, Aug. 24.—Fall River women may smoke in public, even in the city street, if they wish, according to Chief of Police Martin Feeney. The chief made this admission yesterday in discussing the recent case of assault committed by a New York police officer on a young woman who smoked on a public thoroughfare.

"If a crowd follows the young woman who dares to smoke in Main street, the police can only disperse the crowd. The young woman would be within her rights, he said. "I do not anticipate any trouble over smoking in this city," the chief concluded. "Our women seem to be pretty sensible and level-headed and smoking in public will only bring them notoriety."

IRENE CASTLE IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

ITHACA, N. Y., Aug. 24.—While riding Buckshot, one of her favorite jumpers, over the practice course of the Cornell campus yesterday, Irene Castle suffered serious injuries that will confine her to her home on Cayuga Heights for the next eight weeks and compel her to cancel her entries in several horse shows as well as motion pictures and dancing contracts.

Collarbone Broken
Mrs. Treman, who has been spending much of her summer at her home here, planned to enter six thoroughbred jumpers in the horse show at the state fair at Syracuse and Rochester and later in New York city. It has been her custom to ride these horses every morning to tune them up for coming exhibitions. Yesterday she chose Buckshot for her mount.

The accident occurred as the horse attempted to clear a five-foot jump. He stumbled and fell, with Mrs. Treman under him. A groom hastened to her aid and soon extracted her from beneath the plunging horse.

She was at once removed to her home in an automobile, where physicians discovered that she had suffered a fracture of the right collarbone and numerous severe bruises. Her condition last night was reported to be satisfactory.

GEN. EDWARDS SOON TO BE RETIRED

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—The retirement of Major-General Clarence R. Edwards, commander of the First Corps area, is to be hastened, according to reliable authority, instead of waiting until next January when he would come under the age limit, the "Daddy" of the 26th division is to be retired within a month.

This action is to be taken for the purpose of retaining certain younger officers who otherwise would be dropped under the relaxed quota. It is understood that the army "Flicking Board," Major-General Dickman, chairman, advised the retirement of General Edwards and several other major-generals, before the completion of their service limit, and that Secretary of War Weeks and Senator Lodge endorsed the board's decision.

When seen last night, General Edwards said that he had understood that the retirement of all army officers over 62 was favored to make room for the younger men, but it was the general impression that the retirement was to occur in December. That was all he knew about the matter, he said.

YOUNG WOOD'S DEATH REPORT MUTINY ON

He Was Not to Blame For Fatal Crash as Shown by Investigation

At the request of Cornelius A. Wood, brother of William M. Wood, Jr., recently killed in the automobile accident, the following account of the accident is published in order to correct the first stories of the accident which placed the blame chiefly on young Wood. The Sun presents this account in the interests of truth and justice.

Investigation of the automobile accident in which William M. Wood, Jr., son of the president of the American Woolen company, lost his life, tends to prove that the young man was not the victim of his own reckless driving, as was first supposed, but of some one else's carelessness and that instead of ensuring he deserves credit.

His wrecked Rolls Royce car alone comes pretty near clearing him of all responsibility for the accident. The forward bumper which extends across the whole width of the car is intact, likewise the two headlights and the radiator. This proves conclusively that Wood did not strike any other car head on.

The left front wheel, however, was smashed and the left front mudguard was crushed in against the radiator. This shows that the trouble occurred while Wood was turning away in an effort to avoid it. It also shows that he was on the right side of the road and that the other machine was cutting in on him from the left.

Gardner Rice, the old Harvard track man who was riding along with Wood, says that the latter turned out to pass the oncoming car. If that is so, the oncoming car was traveling in the middle of the road.

According to eyewitnesses the Wood car and two others were about abreast on the road when the trouble occurred. Wood was going toward Andover and the other two were traveling in the opposite direction toward Reading. The road at that point is 29½ feet wide with plenty of room for three cars to pass properly.

According to Rice, Wood, although he turned out for the oncoming car, was unable to avoid the collision and when he turned in again to get on the macadam once more, the curving surface of the road caused the car to turn over and hit the pole, pinning Wood against it and killing him almost instantly.

Cornelius A. Wood was elected a director of the American Woolen company yesterday to succeed his brother, William M. Wood, Jr.

THREE BOSTON POLICEMEN DROPPED

BOSTON, August 24.—Following his statement that he would not marry Miss Ethel Croyle, aged 25, of 71 Westland avenue, who threatened to leap into Muddy river because of an alleged betrayal, Patrolman Antonio De Gra-go, formerly of the City Point station, was dismissed from the force last night.

General orders read at roll call stated his dismissal was "with charges pending against him." The officer previously had offered his resignation.

De Graeco's dismissal marked the third discharge of members of the police force yesterday.

Patrolman Michael J. Borowsky and William L. Donahue of Division 19, alleged to have been under the influence of liquor while riding in an automobile which crashed into another machine on Adams street, Dorchester, today, were the other officers dismissed.

AMERICAN STEAMER

LONDON, Aug. 24.—A Naples dispatch to the Central News says that a fire which was set on the American steamer Philadelphia yesterday morning, was accompanied by a sensational mutiny of the crew, who after pillaging the hold, which contained valuable merchandise, defied the attempts of the captain and the officers to restore order.

A bitter fight ensued in which the officers fired several shots amongst the mutineers. The latter made misadventures out of everything they could lay their hands on.

Strong forces of Carabinieri were sent for, and after firing amongst the disturbers, quelled the mutiny. One hundred and 50 sailors were arrested and put into chains. The casualties are unknown. The fire on the steamer was only extinguished after hundreds of firemen were engaged in pouring water on the vessel.

FOSTER ARRESTED IN "RED" ROUNDUP

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—William Z. Foster, president of the Trades' Union Educational league, who has been sought by federal agents as one of those participating in an alleged radical convention held in a forest near Bridgeport, Mich., was taken into custody last night while in the offices of the educational league. Foster strongly denied having attended the convention which was raided by federal officers and state troops.

Later a federal agent, accompanied by a representative of the police department and a private detective, searched Foster's apartment, but declared they had found nothing of value. Meanwhile, Foster was held in a police cell for extradition to Michigan.

"My arrest is an outrage," Foster declared. "I was not at the meeting in Michigan and I will hire the best lawyers in the west to fight extradition."

It was said that the arrest was expected soon of two men said to represent the soviet government of Russia.

General orders read at roll call stated his dismissal was "with charges pending against him." The officer previously had offered his resignation.

JOLSON'S BRIDE
At Johnson, stage comedian, recently confirmed the report that he had married Miss Alma Osborne, known on the stage as Ethel Delmar.

Individual Settlements

score of railroads today prepared to throw out the possibility of individual lines settling with their striking shopmen.

This possibility was raised by leaders of the running trades, appearing as mediators, at a conference yesterday with the entire membership of the Association of Railway Executives, which rejected the proposal of the brotherhood men that the rail heads yield on the disputed question of seniority rights.

Encouraged by a belief that individual settlements might prove the basis for peace, the big five leaders conferred until after midnight with the heads of a score or more of executives, who, when the general conference adjourned, expressed a willingness to continue negotiations, although reaffirming their common stand against the unions' seniority proposals.

Daniel Willard, spokesman for the group of executives, had previously announced that they would meet the brotherhood chiefs again "early today" but without disclosing where or when the session would take place. It was reported unofficially, however, that the Yale club, scene of yesterday's major developments, again would be the seat of negotiations. The exact status of the renewed negotiations remained this morning somewhat clouded.

Both the executives who conferred last night with the brotherhood men and those who prepared to leave for their homes early in the evening, insisted in asserting that the purpose of the meeting was to discuss the possibility of separate settlements. It was announced, however, that any individual settlement would have to be made in the light of the understanding on seniority reached at the general session of the Association of Railway Executives.

Dikordern Continue

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—With the New

York peace conference still holding the center of the railroad strike stage today, situations at many railway centers remained acute and disorders continued as the shopmen's strike entered its 55th day.

At Waco, Texas, R. T. Campbell, chairman of the striking shopmen, and two other men were arrested by state rangers charged with violation of the Texas open port law, in connection with the flogging of a railroad employee. Two arrests in the case previously had been made.

The victim of the flogging, W. T. Harris, said he was taken from the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad yards at Hillsboro and beaten with wet ropes.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—With the New

York peace conference still holding the center of the railroad strike stage today, situations at many railway centers remained acute and disorders continued as the shopmen's strike entered its 55th day.

At Waco, Texas, R. T. Campbell, chairman of the striking shopmen, and two other men were arrested by state rangers charged with violation of the Texas open port law, in connection with the flogging of a railroad employee. Two arrests in the case previously had been made.

The victim of the flogging, W. T. Harris, said he was taken from the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad yards at Hillsboro and beaten with wet ropes.

If there is only one grain of sugar in a room - a fly will find it!

IN hot, sticky weather exposed sugar attracts swarms of flies. You can't protect yourself from this menace if you buy exposed sugar, because sugar can't be washed or cleaned. You have to eat it just as it is, germs, dirt and all.

Why take this chance? Buy sugar that is always clean, pure and protected—Domino Package Sugars. These clean cane sugars are weighed, packed and sealed by machine. They are never exposed on the way from our refinery to your home.

Simpler Radio Wanted

HOW RADIO IS BEING SIMPLIFIED: ABOVE, A "MODERN" COMPLICATED SET; BELOW, DR. ALFRED N. GOLDSMITH AT HIS "ONE-DIAL" SET.

By N.E.A. Service
NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Radio will lead the phonograph in popularity when its operation is simplified.

So say prominent radio engineers and dealers who have been trying to develop this new instrument to a high state of efficiency. To back up their statement they show figures of their tremendous sale of radio instruments and parts during the last year or so. This sale, they say, will continue even stronger when autumn comes and warm weather does not force radio enthusiasts outdoors. But it will be mostly to amateurs and other fans. The layman will not consider the installation of a radio set until the simple and efficient apparatus is produced.

One Control
Radio engineers are fast approaching this goal, Dr. Alfred N. Goldsmith of the College of the City of New York, has already perfected a radio receiving instrument which has only one main control and an auxiliary control. Comparing this with the set of many knobs, dials, switches and other controls, Dr. Goldsmith has brought the new science down to simplicity of operation.

Still, says Dr. Goldsmith, the radio receiving set must be developed so that any person, who knows nothing about its operation, may be able to "tune in" on a radio concert with a single turn of a knob or by merely pushing a button. Then, he says, radio will gain the public favor faster than any invention has in the past. Besides simplicity of operation, however, a high state of efficiency is desired. As regards efficiency, engineers say, radio is still in its infant stage.

Not more than one-fourth of the energy put into a transmitting instrument is caught at the receiving end. Sometimes as low as four per cent. of the original energy remains to be received.

This loss is somewhere in the transmitting apparatus. But there is also a great loss in the receiving end, which engineers are trying to compensate.

Between these two there is the everlasting bugaboo of radio fans—static. Like the grating of the phonograph needle, which may mar the tone of a record, static interferes in the reception of broadcast messages and concerts.

Engineers connected with the United States bureau of standards and others working for private firms, have been trying to eliminate this interference. But they have yet to arrive at the proper formula for its submission.

OUTING AT WILLOW DALE
Willow Dale was the scene last Tuesday of the outing of the mothers and children of the Middlesex Park playground. The party, numbering about 40, made the trip by auto truck.

During the afternoon a program of sports was run and suitable prizes awarded the winners of the various events. The big feature of the day was the basket lunch. The return trip was made at 2 o'clock in the evening, after a very enjoyable day. The outing was planned and carried out by the mothers of the children attending the playground.

RYAN ASSETS

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Tangible assets of Allan A. Ryan, Wall street broker and manipulator of the famous "Stutz Corner," who recently was thrown into bankruptcy with liabilities of $18,000,000, were sold yesterday for $8600.

The sale, approved yesterday by Bankruptcy Referee Peter B. Olney, included 17 items—several promissory notes; an account policy with no cash value; a certificate of membership in a country club, redeemable for $250; 66 Community club certificates, valued at $250; 16 pieces of jewelry; 50 shares of Stutz Motor stock; interest in several enterprises, including a baseball club. Ryan said that he started more than a year ago to borrow money on his three life insurance policies of $50,000 each and that he had borrowed all but $100 on all of them. One of the policies was written by the New York Life Insurance company, another by the Equitable and the third by the State Mutual of Worcester, Mass.

TIMOTHY ASH GIVEN FAREWELL RECEPTION

Timothy Ash, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ash of 17 Claiborne street, who is soon to leave for Old Point Comfort, where he will begin his studies with a view of becoming a naval aviator, was given a reception by his classmates of St. Patrick's boys' school at the home of Mrs. Elita Smith, 33 Sargent street, last evening.

Young Ash is one of the most popular young men of the school and last season played an important part in the athletic activities of the institution. He was a star player on the basketball team, which made a most remarkable record, and competed for the city championship against the St. Anne's quintet. He also was identified with other branches of sport in school, and was very studious and won many honors in the class room.

Those who assembled to say farewell last evening warmly congratulated the young man on his decision to enter the religious order, and wished him success. He was presented several suitable gifts.

FINE PROGRAM AT COLONIAL HALL

Violin selections, vocal soloists, dramatic readers, and impersonators pulled forth their very best in an entertaining program at Colonial hall last night for the benefit of the Children's Home in Hosford square. An audience of over 200 attended to enjoy the program and help the home.

Miss Belle Harrington Hall was the first entertainer and she had the audience in an uproar as she interpreted several amusing pieces. Then there were several solos by Miss Emily Gaudette, who was cheered for her beautiful work. Thompson Blood next entertained with impersonations of various characters and they were well received. The program closed with several entrancing violin solos by Paul Gagnon.

COLD CABINET PUDDING

BY BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH
Cooking Authority for N.E.A. Service and Columbia University.

This recipe gives an opportunity to use stale cake. Any cake except molasses or spice cake may be used, as well as any kind of preserved or dried fruits, as raisins or currants.

One pint milk, 2 whole eggs or yolks 3 eggs, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon gelatin soaked in ¼ cup cold water, ¼ cup sugar, 1 cup fruit, stale cake, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Make a custard using milk, eggs, sugar and salt. Add gelatin soaked in the cold water. Have ready a mold or bread pan and in it pour enough of the custard to cover the bottom.

Place the mold in ice and when mixture sets cover with a part of the fruit and pieces of cake. Add some more of the custard and again allow it to set before putting another layer of fruit and cake.

Repeat until all the material has been used. Let stand in a cold place until the mold is firm enough to turn out. It may be served with whipped cream or some preserved fruit, or just as it is.

Bars Importation of Adult Honey Bees

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The senate yesterday passed the house bill prohibiting importation of adult honey bees. The measure is designed to check what it is feared by department of agriculture experts, may develop into virtually a world-wide plague known as the Isle of Wight disease.

THE CHAMPION VOLLEY BALL TEAM

The North common volley ball team, having won the championship of the Central Playground league, has also annexed the title of city champions as the result of recent victories over the Moody team, champions of the Southern league and the Varnum, champions of the Eastern. The winning combination comprised: Jessie Abels, Capt.; Olga Lachmans, Elsie Tremblay, Cecile Proulx, Winnie Molloy, Jennie Manns, Florence Lachmans, Ruth Corcoran, Alice Gillick and Mayella Bourke.

The Butler school team has been declared city champions in captain ball. They first won the championship of their own division, the Southern, and then defeated the South common, Central league winners, and the Varnum, Eastern league leaders. The Butler lineup follows: Florence Goodfield, Allen Wilmore, Vera Gleason, Gladys Draney, Mary Vandergast, Violet Wyatt, Gladys O'Keefe and Gertrude O'Keefe.

TRYON TO REPAIR STOCKINGS

Edward B. Tryon, head of the chain of Tryon Stocking stores, announced today that he has something new for his Lowell store, in a silk stocking repair department. Here men or women may bring their silk stockings to be repaired and the economical way of making the high price stockings last should prove very popular here.

Reader Takes Newer Form of Iron—Feels Years Younger

"Six weeks ago I saw a special offer in the paper telling how thousands of people grow old in looks and energy long before they are really old in years, because, as examinations by physicians have shown, an enormous number of people do not have enough iron in their blood. I have been taking Nuxated Iron for two weeks; the results are simply astounding. The roses have come back in my lips and cheeks, and I can conscientiously say that I feel ten years younger."

The above is a typical hypothetical case showing the results that have been achieved by a great many people since we started this "satisfaction or money back" offer on Nuxated Iron. We will make you the same guarantee. If, after taking the two week's treatment of Nuxated Iron, you do not feel and look years younger, we will promptly refund your money. Dublin Grief-Stricken City plans went forward for the meeting of the new southern parliament on Saturday, when the ministerial changes necessitated by the sudden removal of Collins and Arthur Griffith, are expected to be made.

Meanwhile, William T. Cosgrave is acting as the head of the provisional Free State government, and Richard Mulcahy, as chief of staff, is directing the final phase of the national army's campaign against the irregulars.

The absorbing question of who is to succeed Collins is asked on all sides and, besides Cosgrave and Mulcahy, the names of Kevin O'Higgins, minister of economic affairs; General O'Connell, assistant chief of staff; and General Gerald O'Sullivan are frequently mentioned.

General Collins' body reached Dublin by steamer this morning from Cork, and was met by an enormous number of mourners, among whom were representatives of the army, including Chief of Staff Mulcahy.

A solemn requiem mass will be celebrated at 11 o'clock Monday morning in the pro-cathedral, directly after which the body will be conveyed to the famous Glasnevin cemetery where Collins' buried his colleague, Griffith, only a little more than a week ago.

Planned to Redraft Constitution
LONDON, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press).—At the time of his death Michael Collins had under consideration plans to redraft several sections of the constitution of the Irish Free State so as to placate the more radical republican element. This was made known today by Michael Francis Doyle, Philadelphia lawyer, who arrived from Dublin where he went to consult with the members of the provisional government.

Mr. Doyle was the last American, he believes, to see the Free State commander-in-chief alive. He had several conferences with Collins, and on the day before the latter went to the south, where he was fated to fall under a bullet, they went carefully over the different points of the constitution which it had been planned to redraft.

If these points could be arranged to satisfy the republican radicals, General Collins believed there was a possibility of inducing the Irish people as a whole to rally around the constitution. Mr. Doyle has been asked by the remaining Irish leaders to continue his study of the constitution and may return to Dublin with legal suggestions.

Boston Plans Memorial Service
BOSTON, Aug. 24.—A group of citizens interested in Irish affairs and deeply stirred by the tragic deaths of Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins held an informal meeting last night to consider arrangements for a great memorial meeting to be held in Boston.

It was felt that Boston, so long the home of ardent sympathy for Ireland, should in some way signify the grief felt at the passing of the two great leaders. The meeting is to be purely a memorial. No discussion of the present political situation in Ireland is intended. Leading citizens of the city will be asked to take part.

A strong list of speakers is already under consideration. The date of the meeting has not yet been fixed. Matthew Cummings was chosen to act as temporary chairman of the committee. A permanent organization will be effected at a meeting on Sunday night.

Pope Deeply Moved
ROME, Aug. 24.—The pope, deeply moved by the death of Michael Collins, issued a statement, in which he said: "The epidemic of political murders which has lately occurred, particularly that of Field Marshal Wilson, and now this of General Collins, shows the need of the masses to return to the teachings of Christian doctrine, love and peace among men, and the necessity for them to realize that violence does not secure triumph in any cause."

"Calamity," Says Glynn
ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 24.—"The assassination of Michael Collins is a calamity to Ireland and the Irish," declared ex-Gov. Martin H. Glynn, last night.

Mr. Glynn's efforts to bring about a peaceful settlement of the Irish problem have acquainted him with many of Ireland's prominent leaders.

"Following upon the demise of Arthur Griffith," said Mr. Glynn's statement, "this cold blooded slaying of Michael Collins is a calamity to Ireland and the Irish."

Mr. Collins was a man of intense convictions. In makeup, temperament and heavy he was a good deal like Theodore Roosevelt. He had the snap and decision that made Roosevelt popular and powerful. He was generally and fairly beloved throughout Ireland his slaying will arouse a resentment that will come home to plague those responsible.

"The slayers of Michael Collins are playing into the hands of Ireland's enemies and slaughtering Ireland's chances to take her place among the nations of the world."

London Papers Comment

LONDON, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press).—Michael Collins' sudden removal from the arena of Irish affairs, is given considerable space in this morning's newspapers. Naturally, there is a greater effort to eulogize him, to describe his meteoric career and romantic personality and to pay tribute to his "gay bravery" than there is to look into the dark cloud of Ireland's immediate future.

The Westminster Gazette recalls that for centuries, Irishmen have never looked political leaders of ability when the occasion for their need arose, but the fact that eight months after the Anglo-Irish treaty was signed only one of the Irish signatories remains in power, with the other Free State ministers unknown quantities, in England, is emphasized by the Times in support of its opinion that it is impossible to regard the future without forebodings.

This editorial writers generally ask who is left to carry on the policy for which Collins and Arthur Griffith stood, but only the Daily Chronicle suggests the possibility of the British government again taking a hand in Irish affairs.

The Daily Mail declares that "harshly and murder are again in the ascendancy in Ireland, and believes General Collins paid the penalty of his policy of liberating the rebels once he had captured them. The newspaper urges that what is left of the Free State government leave nothing to chance."

The Daily Herald, labor organ, would have the British "refrain from further indulging the Irish strife by comments and accusations, for Ireland at this time is a terrible object lesson in the futility of force, but it was the British who began the use of force."

"Who next?" asks the Morning Post which views the killing of Collins as but a sequel to the assassination of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson and a prelude to further murders both in Ireland and England.

The more general editorial opinion, however, is that the Irish people have had their lesson, and that if, for the moment, there is no strong directing hand, now forces have come into being that are urging Ireland along the road to peace, and that, until convinced that patriotism and political capacity are dead, Ireland cannot and will not despair.

A Belfast despatch to the Evening News today, says it is clear that Michael Collins had a premonition of death. Recently Collins saw a Belfast friend to whom he said upon taking leave:

"Good-bye. I will say good-bye because I don't expect I shall ever see you again."

The correspondent adds that it is stated in Belfast that Collins had been "sentenced to death" by the Irish republican brotherhood.

Wedding Set for Tuesday

LONDON, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press).—The marriage of Michael Collins, slain chief of the Irish Free State, to Miss Kitty Kiernan, had been fixed originally for last Tuesday, the day Collins was killed, says a Dublin despatch to the Evening News. The wedding had been postponed, however, until later this month on account of the death of Arthur Griffith, president of the Dail Eireann cabinet.

Miss Kiernan, daughter of a prominent business man of County Longford, had bought her trousseau.

IT'S A PERFECT SHAME--BUT--

the rule of the store is "never carry merchandise into the next season." So, all the departments have received specific instructions to clear the way—wipe everything off the slate bearing the slightest semblance of summer. In some instances we have bought too generously, but everything must go, and we smash the bottom out of profits and fall far below cost. The time has now come when neither we nor you can afford to hesitate. It's up to us to make room—it's up to you to take them away—at practically give-away prices. DE VALERA AIDES DENY REBELS USED MONEY

DUBLIN, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press)—Friends of Eamon de Valera last evening issued a statement with reference to the injunction granted in New York Monday restraining local banks from releasing to De Valera or his agents money on deposit in them which had been collected for the Irish republican cause. The statement says that not one dollar has been drawn from these funds and expended on the operations of the irregular forces.

It was agreed, the statement continues, after a vote in the Daily Bazaar, that no part of any money raised on loans in America should be expended for political purposes and that no withdrawals for any purpose should be made except by the unanimous consent of the three trustees of the fund, Jas. O'Mara, Bishop Fogarty and De Valera.

$1,000,000 FOR PERMANENT CURE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Payment by the government of $1,000,000 to the person who discovers a permanent cure for any one of the diseases was proposed yesterday in a bill by Representative Sprout, republican, Illinois.

The diseases enumerated are tuberculosis, pneumonia, cancer, epilepsy, diphtheria, praeox. A board composed of medical experts of the army, navy and public health service would determine whether discoveries were effective.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND

Did you ever see how the Elks enjoy themselves at their annual outing? If you haven't and you're anxious to know and see, then visit The Strand and see the motion pictures taken at their annual outing at Marlin Luther grounds, Tynghusboro, last week. You'll be amused and surprised. The pictures give intimate glimpses of well known local and out-of-town men. They're amusing and interesting.

"The Man With Two Mothers," called one of the most artistic and impressive screen dramas of the year, will be shown at The Strand today. It Mary Aiden, who played the part of the mother in "The Old Nest" will be seen again in one of her really wonderful interpretations, and Cullen Landis, Sylvia Breamer, and others will assist in the cast. The second feature will introduce Viola Dana in another of her sparkling comedy dramas, "Spring Is Believing." It's the story of an amateur scandal-maker. Don't miss seeing this bill. It's considered one of the best balanced of the season.

MERIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Seldom has a more entertaining production been shown on a Lowell screen than "Paradise," the noted Booth Tarkington story now being presented at the Merimack Square theatre. It's well worth seeing.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS
The property at the corner of Garden road and Andover street, which consists of a 16-room house and 10,000 square feet of land, owned by Walter E. Durfee of Geneva, N. Y., and formerly of this city, has been sold to Gardner Bulard of the Lowell Motor Sales Co. Clive V. Hoekmeyer, who has been occupying the Durfee property for some time, has purchased the home of George Taylor at 105 Sherman street. M. L. Lurvey has purchased the 15-room lodging house at 30 Westford street from Mary R. Farrell.

ORDINANCE IS INVALID

City Solicitor Gives Opinion on Rent Ordinance Submitted by Councilor Adams

Several weeks ago Councilor Smith J. Adams introduced, at a meeting of the council, an ordinance to prevent landlords from jumping rents with first making the move into city officials. According to the ordinance, landlords would be compelled to notify the city of all increases since the first of the year. City Solicitor Edward J. Tierney gave out an opinion yesterday which in substance announced the ordinance to be invalid inasmuch as the ordinance would impose obligations upon real estate owners exceeding those made by the legislature. The law-head of the city thinks that any move should come from the state rather than the city in the matter.

The ordinance and the opinion follow:
Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Lowell, as follows:
Section 1. All persons, firms, or corporations, resident or non-resident in the city of Lowell, owning real estate in said city, and not using or occupying the same for themselves or their family, shall, after the date of the passage of this ordinance, notify the board of assessors in writing of any increase made by said owners in the rental or charge for use and occupation of said real estate at the time said increase in rental or charge for use and occupation becomes effective against the tenant or occupant thereof.

Section 2. All persons, firms, or corporations, resident or non-resident, owning real estate in this city, the rental or charge for use and occupation of which has been increased from January 1, 1922, to the date of the passage of this ordinance, shall within thirty (30) days from the date of the passage of this ordinance, furnish to the board of assessors in writing a statement of such increase in rental or increased charge for use and occupation of said real estate.

Section 3. Any person, firm or corporation failing to comply with the foregoing provisions of this ordinance shall be subject to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100).
Section 4. This ordinance shall take effect upon its passage.
Aug. 23, 1922.
To Stephen Flynn, Clerk, Committee on Ordinances, of the City Council.

Dear Sir:—In reply to the request of the committee on ordinances for my opinion as to the validity of the proposed ordinance, I provide to the board of assessors with necessary and material information to better enable said board to justly appraise and fix the value of real estate for purposes of taxation. I beg to say that the authority of the city to make such an ordinance must be found in the statutes giving cities and towns general powers to make for specified purposes (Sec. 21, Chap. 40, Gen. Laws) "such orders and by-laws, not repugnant to their charter or to any act of the legislature, as they may deem most conducive to their welfare, which shall be binding upon all inhabitants thereof, and all persons within their limits. They may, except as hereinafter provided, impose penalties for breaches thereof, not exceeding twenty dollars for each offence, which may be recovered by indictment or on complaint before a district court or trial justice, and shall enforce to the town or to such uses as it may direct."

(1) For directing and managing their prudential affairs, preserving peace and good order, and maintaining their internal police.
All other purposes specified relate to particular matters having no connection with the assessment of taxes. The question, therefore, during the course of the ordinance, is whether the purposes sought to be accomplished by the proposed ordinance come within the scope of the authority here granted.

It is said in the case of Cox vs. Severe, 206 Mass. 380, at page 382 this general provision "embraces that large class of miscellaneous subjects affecting the accommodation and convenience of the inhabitants, which have been placed under the municipal jurisdiction of towns, by statute or by usage."

The case goes on to say: "The power to levy proportional and reasonable taxes is a power which is vested solely in the legislative branch of the government, and the raising of the public revenue by taxation is a dependent upon local usage, but since St. 1785, c. 50, has been regulated by a uniform statutory system applicable to all the inhabitants of the commonwealth."

"While entitled in its municipal capacity to all the privileges and benefits of local self-government so far as conferred by the general laws, yet the town not having been granted authority to enact an ordinance relative to the duties of assessors," such ordinance was held to be invalid.

No specific authority to make an ordinance such as the one proposed is to be found in the statutes relative to the assessment of local taxes, or elsewhere, and it may be said to, in some respects, conflict with the provisions of sections 21, 35, 36, 37 and 38 of chapter 69 of the general laws. These sections are as follows:

Section 21. The assessors shall assess state taxes including all lawful assessments by the commonwealth for which they receive warrants under the preceding section, county taxes duly certified to them, town taxes voted by their respective towns and all taxes duly voted and certified by fire, water, light and improvement districts therein. Such district taxes shall be subject to the law relative to the assessment and collection of town taxes so far as applicable. Except as otherwise provided, all taxes shall be assessed as of April 1.

Section 35. Assessors shall receive as true, except as to valuation, the list brought in by each person, unless, on being thereto required by the assessors, such person refuse to answer.

The False and the True.

Advertising by the use of large space, the expenditure of huge sums of money have placed on the market, have put in your home, perhaps, many articles that today have been discarded, as you will readily admit. Do you recall anything that has more modestly appealed to the public than has Fletcher's Castoria: modest in all its claims, pleading at all times—and truthfully—for our babies?

The big spurge, the misleading claims may win for a time, but the honest truth-telling advertiser is like the old story of the tortoise that beat the hare.

Mothers everywhere, and their daughters, now mothers, speak frankly, glowingly, enthusiastically in praise of Fletcher's Castoria. Speak of it lovingly as a friend that has brought comfort, cheer and smiles to their little one.

To them: to these true mothers no argument can induce them to set aside their bottle of Castoria, their old friend, that they might try even another and unknown remedy for babies. WAS BORN IN EAST CHELMSFORD

By the death of Ernest J. Edmonds in Cliftondale last Tuesday, one of the best known educators in the east is removed. He was well known in this city, having been born in East Chelmsford March 24, 1861. He received his elementary education in the schools of Chelmsford and entered Dartmouth college, where he was graduated in 1886. Shortly after his graduation, he secured a position on the teaching staff of the Frothington schools and later went to Framingham. Later he was elected superintendent of schools in the Sandwich-Bourne district on the Cape. Twenty-five years ago Mr. Edmonds opened a teachers' agency in Boston, which he conducted for a long time. He is survived by a wife, Mrs. Mabelle Edmonds, and two daughters, Mary J. of Washington, D. C., and Elizabeth of Cliftondale.

Lawrence Knights of Columbus duplicated their performance of last year by again winning the championship of the down-river Twilight League. The veteran champs are now to engage in a series with the local league, the first to be played Saturday at the Spark, Lawrence. In view of the championship of Lowell's Twilight League is still in doubt, the ing to an agreement between representatives of the respective leagues at a meeting in Lawrence last week. It was further decided that the same format would be used as was played in Lowell and the third, if necessary, to be decided by a coin. In the event of a tie between the Highland Heights and the Athletics at the conclusion of night's game, a playoff game on the program at Spaulding will be played.

Saturday afternoon. Such a situation is rare in the history of the Inter-city series and will, following week, when the opening match will be played in Lowell, the home of Lawrence and the rubber players of the local club. At the opening's conference was the all-time one that the playing roster was closed to men and the same players to play in the regular season shall be the town team for a return game to be played on the Textile campus next Monday evening. As the players of the Lowell club are "Bully" McCutcheon, General Manager, "Bully" McCutcheon of the locals is especially anxious to practice a win in the next match. EDDIE GATH OF THE BROADWAYS HEADS THE LIST IN RICARD'S TWILIGHT LEAGUE CONTEST

Popularity Contest Was Big Success, the Total Vote Being 335,869—Votes Received From Idaho and California—Ricard Congratulated

Since the close of the Twilight league popularity contest last Saturday, which has been conducted by Frank Ricard, the Central street jeweler, in conjunction with The Sun, his clerks have been kept busy counting the votes. In the final tabulation, Eddie Gath of the Broadways tops the list, with a total of $5,193. Ned Condon of the "Caseys" is second with 70,997, Pare of the Central-villes is third with 37,244, and John Phillip "Mahoney" Souza of the Massachusetts comes fourth with a fine vote of 31,351. A total vote of 335,869 was cast in this contest.

As prizes for the "boys," as Frank Ricard likes to call them, he has donated $100, splitting it into purses of $50, $25, $15, and $10 for the four winners.

In each issue of The Sun, since the opening of the league, there was printed one vote on the sporting page. The contest has attracted widespread notice throughout the country. Mr. Ricard having received letters, containing Sun votes from as far west as Idaho and California. These letters have commended Frank for being such a good sport and for taking such an interest in the sporting life of the community.

Eddie Gath, second baseman of the Broadway team, the winner of this year's contest, has made himself popular with the fans who have attended the league games by his quiet but businesslike manner on the diamond.

and they have shown their appreciation of his fine playing ability and popularity by bestowing on him the highest honor in their possession, the most popular player in the Twilight league of 1922.

Ned Condon, who garnered second place, trailing Gath by 5000 votes, has also impressed the fans with his conduct on the ball field. No matter what the score, Ned was in there fighting for his team every minute.

and if there is anything baseball fans like it is a fighting spirit in behalf of one's team. He has also won favor because of his ability as a player, not only in the field, but also at the bat.

Ned has made himself a great favorite with the children throughout the city and they carried every paper they could pay their hands on and clipped the votes for their favorite.

Duncan Pare, of the Central-villes took a great jump in the race and finished third in the final standing getting 37,244 votes. Pare won the support of the fans because of his fine work in the outfield of the Central-ville team. He has helped them to win many games by his strong stickwork and the fans showed their appreciation of his efforts. He was in the game every minute and when things looked blackest for his side he only fought the harder.

great favorite with the fans because of his sunny disposition and his worth as a ball player and finished fourth, polling 31,351 votes. Although a member of the Massachusetts team, which assumed the standing of the South End club when they withdrew from the league, and remained in the cellar during the season till last Tuesday night, John Phillip was in the field and played a stellar game in the field. He became a great favorite with the fans and they had great amusement on the nights that he played.

The idea of a popularity contest originated with Mr. Ricard some years ago when his store was located on Merrimack street. At that time he staged a contest for the prettiest girl in Lowell. This vote created great interest throughout the city and was a splendid success. The successful competitor received a valuable prize in virtue of her choice as "Miss Lowell." He then duplicated this contest in Lawrence, where it was even a greater success, because of the experience he had gained in running the first one here in Lowell.

When the Twilight league was organized two years ago, Mr. Ricard became greatly interested in it. One evening the members of the different teams were gathered in his store and speculation was rife as to which the winning team would be. As the project was in its infancy, Mr. Ricard conceived a plan to keep the league in action. He offered a cup to the team which should win the pennant that year.

He received the congratulations of so many players at the close of the contest that he decided he would do something for the "boys," as the players are called, as the winning team. A representative of The Sun was present and they decided that it would be a good idea to conduct a contest for the most popular player of the 1921 Twilight league. An announcement for the success of the plan he offered $100 in prizes. The contest that year was won by Tommy Breen.

The wonderful expansion of this contest is shown in the great increase in the vote for 1922 as compared with 1921. The total vote cast in 1921 was 175,569, while 335,869 votes, nearly double the amount, were cast this year. The votes came in to the store in ten and twelve thousand lots and the friends of the various players have been busy all season gathering their offerings together.

Congratulations are to be extended to Mr. Ricard for the wonderful manner in which he put this affair across, and also for the interest he has shown in the Twilight league since its inception. He deserves real thanks and is to be classed as a "real sport" who is always ready to do something for the "boys." Mr. Ricard also extends his thanks and appreciation to The Sun for the co-operation which it has given him in the conduct of this contest. Both The Sun and Mr. Ricard extend their congratulations to the winners and to all those who were in the contest. The result of the contest was as follows:

appearances, there was no loss in the number of workers.

A committee from the United Textile Workers of America is scheduled for a conference with officials of the Pacific mills later in the day to arrange for the return of the members of unions who have voted to accept the company's proposal of yesterday.

It is probable that there will be no general return of workers before next week at the earliest, and possibly later.

The dyers and finishers, the only body in the United Textile Workers, who have not yet officially accepted the offer, have been called for a meeting this morning to act on the proposal. It is generally believed that they will accept it.

With the settlement of the strike against the Pacific mills, the United Textile Workers will, officials say, increase their activity now against the Acadia mill, the next largest mill in the strike attempting operation.

Then I Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicines

Donaldsonville, La.—"I write with pleasure to praise your medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—which has done so much to restore my health. I was a broken-down woman until my husband brought me a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and one of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine. I had been having pains every month and at intervals between, was weak and seemed to be smothering at times, but in a week I felt like another woman. I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sensitive Wash. It did me a lot of good too. I cannot praise your medicines too much and will be more than glad to recommend them to any woman who is suffering from female troubles. You may print my testimonial, as it is true."

Note Mrs. Landry's words—"as it is true." Every letter recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is genuine. It is a statement telling the merits of these medicines just as the women in your own neighborhood tell each other about them. For fifty years Lydia E. 250 mills to striking textile workers was made complete insofar as the United Textile Workers are concerned by the vote of the dyers and the finishers today.

The strategy board of the U. T. W. will meet tonight to lay plans for a general return to work in the Pacific mills by members of that union. The conference between the board and representatives of the Pacific mills scheduled for today was postponed until after this meeting.

Three employees in the Pacific mills and two strikers were arrested and arraigned in court today charged with creating a disturbance. The workers said they were attacked by the strikers. One of the workers received a $15 fine and the other four were dismissed after paying $5 each.

Coal Supply for Schools

A session owing to the lack of fuel. An interruption of a regular session is considered extremely detrimental to school work in view of the fact that courses are planned according to a certain schedule.

There are one or two avenues out of the difficulty of a coal shortage. It is possible to burn oil, wood and other combinations of coal. The oil proposition is out of the question for the present. It would cost thousands of dollars and a lot of time to install oil burning plants in the schools. Wood would be only a fair substitute, and it is doubtful if it could be used to advantage.

Situation Clearing

Some of the school boilers are fitted for the burning of bituminous coal exclusively, while others of them have used hard coal almost entirely. The soft coal situation seems to be clearing up and it is possible that soft coal will be pressed into service here entirely.

German Marks 20 for a Cent
NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—German marks were quoted today at 5 1-2 cents a hundred, or approximately 20 for a cent, as compared with 6 3-4 cents a hundred last night, and ten cents a week ago. French francs also sank to the year's lowest level, being quoted at 7.76 cents each, as compared with 7.88 1-2 cents yesterday. Slight reactions also took place in demand sterling and other European remittances.

agent stated that he was considering some way out of the difficulty. Some plan to buy coke with which to heat some of the schools. The mayor said today that he had not been advised of any such plan. At the present time coke has taken a big jump in price and is becoming hard to get. If coke or wood were used as a heating medium, it would require almost constant attention to keep the fires burning. Coke gives off a great deal of heat but the fire-boxes must be constantly fed. Perhaps the conference will develop some way out of the difficulty. Some step will be taken immediately. It is believed, to provide for an ample supply of fuel to keep the schools running. It is thought there is enough coal on hand to carry the schools along for a period, but this supply too, depends to a certain extent upon the kind of weather we have. If the fall is early, as is predicted from many quarters, and cold weather sets in, the supply will not last as long as if the weather were mild. Some solution to the proposition will probably be forthcoming after the conference.

URGES PASSAGE OF BONUS BILL

Sen. McCumber Calls for Enactment of Bonus Legislation at Present Session

Demanded by Every Precept of Financial Justice and Every Principle of Honor

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Enactment of soldiers' bonus legislation at this session of congress is demanded by every principle of political honor, Chairman McCumber of the finance committee declared today in opening remarks on the amended house bill, with its bank loan certificate provision in lieu of the original proposal for a cash bonus.

Asserting that the term "bonus" was a misnomer, Sen. McCumber said the measure was to equate in a measure the pay of the men called to the colors with that received by those who stayed at home and profited by what he characterized as a "wild, drunken orgy of extravagance" that accompanied the war.

No Time to Play Politics

The finance committee chairman told the senate the time had come for congress to show that it was "not attempting to play politics with the American soldier, that it was not a 'goose faith' when it passed the first bonus bill just before the elections in 1920."

"The president, in his campaign of 1920 declared in favor of some kind of soldier compensation bill," he continued. "Republicans both in the campaign and on the floor of the senate have reiterated their determination to make good these promises. They were made in good faith and that good faith will be manifested by the vote on this measure."

Referring to the position taken by President Harding and Secretary McAdams last year when the executive asked the senate to defer action on the bonus because of the then financial condition of the treasury, Senator McCumber requested that they now view the legislation "in the light of present-day conditions."

Senator McCumber argued that no funds necessary for the financing of the bonus legislation could be obtained from the refunded foreign debt and that if the refunding were not completed when it became effective the interest from the British debt, which he said the first bill had planned to pay, would be sufficient.

Would Cost $3,412,000,000

As to the cost of the legislation, Mr. McCumber estimated this at a total of $3,412,000,000 spread over forty years. For the next calendar year, he placed the cost at $77,110,885, increased to $227,772,229 for 1924, and decreased to $172,000,362 in 1925. The cost would run into several hundred millions in 1925, when the veterans could call on the government for loans on the adjusted service certificates, but the speaker said that by 1929, the cost annually would drop to $21,000,000 with only a very few millions thereafter until 1942, when the certificates would come due.

The bill as reported is satisfactory to the soldiers," said Mr. McCumber. "It ought not to be materially changed."

Only millions given to charity to Russia; $25,000,000 to give Columbia settlement; $20,000,000 for ship subsidy and not a ripple of concern. We have a bill of $125,000,000 for good roads, or two or three hundred millions to assist railroads, all in a single year, as if they amounted to nothing. Why on earth then should we approach this soldiers' compensation bill as though it were an obligation requiring a special tax levy or as one endangering the refunding of short time obligations?"

Trade Journal Deals With Discussion Relative to Abandonment of Schools

From the chamber of commerce comes an item from a well known trade journal, dealing with the discussion which has taken place relative to the abandonment of the textile schools in Fall River and New Bedford and the establishment of a huge textile university in Lowell. It is stated that while some people earnestly believe that the scheme can be carried through successfully, it is but a dream and cannot be done. The people of Massachusetts, according to the journal, will not allow it. In the first place, as the policy of the commonwealth is progress rather than retrogress in educational matters.

It is asserted that the textile schools in Massachusetts are now under state supervision, and they are giving results in a marked degree, as is shown in the large attendance and the high grade students graduated every year. The meager appropriations for the schools are retarding progress, and the entire plan of technical education for mill workers would be killed by the execution of such a plan as that discussed.

The contention is made that the Lowell school, while excellent in equipment and direction, is no better than that of New Bedford for a central location. The idea of the schools is to give mill workers and young men desiring to get into the textile business a technical education foundation leading to their greater efficiency and higher value to their employers. In New Bedford and Fall River, as well as in this city, the idea has proved to be successful, and it is said that the need for these three schools exists at the present time greater than ever before, since the north faces the sharpest kind of competition from the south and its very existence is dependent upon high quality both in help and products.

It is believed that there is no need for a university of textile art, but, on the other hand, there is a constantly increasing demand for practical schools in our great textile centers, schools where the ground work for a life-long occupation in textile mills may be secured by young men.

The necessity is expressed for New Bedford to specialize on fine goods and hold the prestige in cotton manufacturing. Therefore, the thousands of mill hands must have schools near at hand where they can better fit themselves in the tremendous task of maintaining the prestige of New England as a cotton manufacturing center.

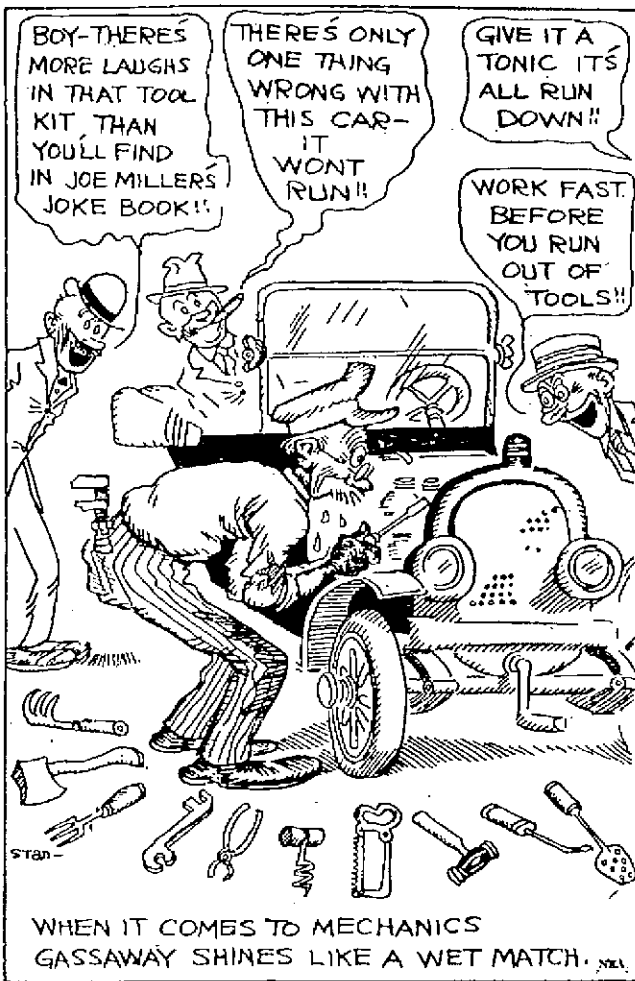

Consolidating the schools would be a calamity, according to the journal. Bringing Lowell, Fall River and New Bedford schools to properly take care of their students would be of practical and economic value to the state and when the facts are known it is stated, the policy of development will be changed and a liberal appropriation made for the textile schools as fast as growth in number of students makes it necessary.

SUMMER ACTIVITIES AT PLAYS PRES. HARDING THE CITY LIBRARY

While the continued silence at the city library, with but a few visitors seated in the apologetic main floor, would lead the observer to believe that the place might as well be closed for the summer, a little investigation of the institution's summer activities, which greatly exceed those of previous years, might cause a rapid change of mind.

For one thing, although it may not be generally known, vacation cards, allowing the holders to take away books at a time, are on hand at the library, and may be secured upon application. Forty-six cards of this sort have been issued this summer, and although a few of the holders have not taken full advantage of their privilege, there are nearly 400 books missing temporarily from the shelves.

Comparing the circulation for July, last year, with the same month of this, it is found that while only 1,781 volumes had left the library during the month of July of last year, this year's circulation was 12,781.

Another feature not any too well known to the patrons is that magazines, of which duplicates are on hand, are allowed to go out with a book. In this case, the number taken out in July, 1921, 365, was surpassed by the 560 loaned out this summer.

Comparative figures for the circulation of books in the children's room show that 1780 were taken out last year, and 2550 this year.

After Labor day the library will go on winter time schedule. At present the library is opened daily with the exception of Thursday and Saturday.

The winter schedule will remain the same as usual, 9 a. m.

IRISH GOVERNMENT IN TRIBUTE TO COLLINS

DUBLIN, Aug. 23.—(By the Associated Press)—The Irish government issued the following statement on the death of Michael Collins:

"The greatest and bravest of our countrymen has been snatched from us at a moment when victory smiled through the clouds upon the rising up of the nation to which he had dedicated all the powers of his magnificent mind."

"The genius and courage of Michael Collins lent force and inspiration to the race and brought the long fight against the external enemy to a triumphant end, which had become almost a dream, and swept before it the domestic revolt which tried to pluck from your hands the fruits of that triumph of your unchallenged authority in the land."

"In every phase of the awakened activity of the nation, the construction, administration and execution of the authority, the personality of Michael Collins was vivid and inspiring. He has been slain to our untimely grief and loss, but he cannot die. He will live in the rule of the people which he gave his great heart to assert and confirm and which his colleagues undertake as a solemn charge to maintain."

FIVE WOMEN CHARGED WITH INTIMIDATING

WALTHAM, Mass., Aug. 23.—Five women were before the district court today on charges of intimidating workers in the mills of the Otis company, which resumed Monday after a shutdown of six months. Mary Kinnon, arrested Monday night, was found guilty and her case was continued for sentence two weeks hence. Lucy Davales, Anna Stachowicz and Brilla Tard, waived examination before a plea of not guilty was entered over to the grand jury by Judge Henry C. Davis. The trial of a fifth woman, Mary Hestacheck, was unfinished at noon. No further outbreak of violence occurred this morning.

"FAILURES" OF G. O. P. LISTED BY M'KELLAR
 WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—A speech on the failures and accomplishments of the republican administration, was delivered yesterday in the senate by Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee.
 "Among 36 'failures' listed were prohibition enforcement, restoration of the merchant marine, effective adjustment of foreign relations, re-establishment of peace and trade with Mexico, and management of the coal industry and railroads.
 "Accomplishments" recited by the senator included the seating of Senator Newberry, reduction of taxes of the rich, the turning over of large portions of public oil lands to oil trusts, increase of passenger and freight rates, deception of the people about an association of nations; and the furnishing to labor of strikes in abundance and to farmer service men millions of cases of unemployment.

ENDS LIFE WITH BULLET

Veil of Mystery Surrounds Suicide of Beautiful Corinne Sequin of Haverhill
 HAVERHILL, Aug. 24.—The veil of mystery concealing the motive for the suicide of beautiful Corinne Sequin, who ended her life with a bullet while alone in her luxurious apartment on Emerson street, this city, yesterday afternoon, may never be lifted.
 It is believed that the girl interrupted a telephone conversation to press the revolver to her temple, for the receiver was off the hook when her roommate, Miss Frances O'Brien, found the body. Efforts to locate the party with whom Miss Sequin was talking have been without avail.
 Lloyd Johnson, the girl's sweetheart, today denied reports that he was conversing with Miss Sequin when she called her life. He says he tried to call the apartment at 3:30 in the afternoon, about the time the medical examiner was viewing the body.
 In an effort to throw some light on the mystery, the police today planned to interview a woman who owed Miss Sequin some money, which the girl had tried vainly to collect. The girl was usually melancholy, by her roommate says, and had several times threatened to end her life. The medical examiner's opinion was suicide while dependent.

GLYNN APPROVED AS HUB FIRE COMMISSIONER
 BOSTON, Aug. 24.—The State Civil Service commission yesterday afternoon approved the appointment by Mayor Curley of Theodore A. Glynn as fire commissioner of the city of Boston, at a salary of $7500 a year. It is expected that Mr. Glynn will be sworn in today and will take up his duties immediately. He succeeds Maj. William J. Casey, superintendent of the city printing plant, who has been acting fire commissioner.

Following the resignation of Fire Commissioner John R. Murphy, John T. Manning became acting commissioner, and after his resignation, upon Mayor Curley's election, Manning took the post. It was generally understood that Mayor Curley wished Congressman Peter F. Tague to accept this post and that while Congressman Tague was willing to take it, he preferred to wait until after this congressional election to avoid causing an expensive special election to fill his own seat at Washington.
 About three weeks ago, however, Congressman Tague announced that he would not accept the office, and at that time Mayor Curley named his chief lieutenant, an ardent supporter for many years, Theodore A. Glynn, to the post. Announcement of the appointment of this choice by the state civil service commission was received by the city clerk about 3:30 p. m. yesterday.
 Fire Commissioner Glynn is 41 years old. He began his political career in Roxbury where he was born and educated. His victories in ward fights against the Tammany club, then under the control of James M. Curley and Thomas F. Curley, gained him much fame locally. He took his seat in the old common council on his 21st birthday and served several terms. Then he defeated Thomas F. Curley for the Roxbury seat in the house. This defeat of the Tammany club weakened its power, but a few years later Glynn and the Curleys made a truce.
 Nine years ago Glynn managed Mayor Curley's campaign. He was campaign manager when Curley was defeated and he also managed the last campaign.
 Mr. Glynn began his business life as manager of a large market in Roxbury. Now he is New England agent for a big western packing house. He married when he was elected to the house. His home is at 9 Mt. Pleasant avenue, Roxbury. He has two children.

THE VELIE MOTOR HIGHLY EFFICIENT
 While the new Velie built motor first made its appearance in 1922 as a power plant in model 35, it is not in any sense an experiment, as some of the best engineers in the country have pronounced the "overhead valve" construction as being the most efficient, not only in longevity and for its power of endurance, but also in its cost of operation. This same principle is being carried out in the Velie built motor except it has been refined in several instances—using four bearings in the crank shaft, replacing push rods with high grade steel tubing, which is not affected as quickly by heat and other conditions which call for a taper, and efficient and positive lubrication which sends a bath of oil to each part the moment you start the motor. Engineers have conceded all this, which removes the Velie built motor from the experimental stage.
 The Church Street Motor Co., local distributors, now have all models of the new Velie car in their showroom.
 Many savages paint their skins as protection against the cold.

FRATERNITY HOLDS CONVENTION
 NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 24.—Delegates to the 26th annual convention of Sigma Lambda Xi fraternity, began their session today. Merrill F. Blunkin of Philadelphia, president, was in the chair. The fraternity was founded in a Brooklyn high school in 1822 and is spread throughout the country, being incorporated in 1895.

Not to Press Ship Subsidy Bill
 WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—President Harding will not press for immediate consideration by congress of the administration ship subsidy bill, believing that it would be better to postpone action until "we can rivet the attention of congress with a full attendance" rather than "jeopardize its success" by consideration under the present circumstances. The president's position was set forth in a letter yesterday to Representative Mondell, the republican leader, who had written the executive that he and his associates were reluctant to bring the bill to a vote in the house at this time.

Adventures of the Twins
 BEES, GIANT AND AN ELEPHANT FAILED TO SCARE TWINS
 The next place the Twins came to was a buzzing and a wuzzing, and a large swarm of bees came right at them.
 "Hoot!" yelled the giant out of the window.
 "Don't yourself!" answered Nick. "We're not afraid of anything."
 "I'll bet you are," answered the giant. "Just you wait."
 Pretty soon he reappeared in the doorway. And what did he do but change into a pink elephant and rush at them!
 But Nancy and Nick bravely stood their ground. Even when the pink elephant took his trunk and lifted them on his back, they weren't afraid.
 "Oh, shucks!" said the elephant. "Aren't you afraid of anything?"
 "Only bees!" answered Nancy.
 "All right, I thought there was something," cried the elephant, and then he disappeared so suddenly that the Twins III on the ground with a thump. And just as suddenly there was a buzzing and a wuzzing, and a large swarm of bees came right at them.
 "Oh!" screamed Nancy. "Save me, Nick!"
 Quick as a flash Nick grabbed a large mat from the giant's door-step and threw it over his sister and then crawled under himself.
 Of course the bees couldn't sting through anything, so thick, and they got tired and buzzed away.
 Nancy and Nick waited and waited. Then, peeping out, they saw the bees had gone, so out they crawled.
 A purple fairy, flying by his ears, was just disappearing around the corner.
 "My goodness!" said Nick. "The giant and the elephant and the bees must have been Flap-Doodle himself. He's changed himself with the Fairy Queen's wand!"

LOCAL TEXTILE STRIKE

Strike Committee Chairman
Says Local Mills Should Follow Lead of Pacific

Commenting on the strike settlement in the Pacific mills at Lawrence, John Hanley, chairman of local textile strike committee, stated this morning that similar settlements can be reached in this city if the mill officials will only see the light and get busy. "Speaking for the strikers of the Hamilton, M. Co., Bay State Cotton Corp., and Massachusetts mills," said Mr. Hanley, "I sincerely believe that there is no need of a conference between mill officials and employees, all that is to be done is for the agents to announce a similar proposition as that advanced by the Pacific mill officials in the down-river city, and the strikers will return to work."

"Ever since the first day of the strike we have been ready to meet the mill officials and talk business with them. We are still ready to meet them, but I firmly believe there is no need of a conference. The press dispatches announce that the officials of the Lawrence mill have agreed not to announce wage reductions in the mill in the future without first conferring with their employees, which means that they are giving them collective bargaining."

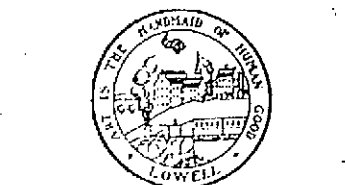

"This is what I have been preaching right along and as I have stated on many occasions, had the agents of the three local mills affected by strikes conferred with their operatives before pasting wage reduction notices, the strike could have been averted."

Mr. Hanley is confident that within a short time the officials of the local mills affected by strikes will come to terms, for in his opinion the Lawrence settlement is the beginning of the end of textile strikes in New England. The employees of the Lowell Bleachery, who are now working under protest, who are a 12 1/2 per cent. wage reduction held by members of the treasurer of the company last Tuesday day, but the result of the meeting was not made public. Tomorrow evening the employees of the mill will meet in strike headquarters in Central street and will then make an official report of what transpired at the conference.

WELL KNOWN VETERAN DIED YESTERDAY

Mr. James Riley, a well known resident of the Immaculate Conception parish for many years, died yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Merrill, 262 Concord street, after a long illness. He was 73 years of age. Mr. Riley was born in Lowell, Mass. He was a member of the 12th U.S. Infantry, 1861-1865. The deceased passed through some of the most terrible battles of the Civil War and was wounded three times and never fully recovered from the effects of the wounds. He was carried from the field at Cedar Creek and fought all the campaign under Gen. Sheridan. He was also wounded at the battle of Gettysburg. He was one of the youngest veterans in the war, having entered before he was 15 years old and in this respect was a rival of the late John Welch, who was named the "drummer boy" of the army. Mr. Riley was a highly respected by his fellow veterans and also by the community. His funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow at St. Patrick's church. Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

MISS DIXON SELECTED AS "MISS LOWELL"

Out of a bevy of close to 300 pretty girls, Miss Anna Dixon, of 41 Waverley street, a popular and well known young woman, was last evening selected as "Miss Lowell," which means that she was judged to be the prettiest girl in the city. This occurred at the Casino at a benefit dance conducted for the strikers of the Boston & Maine carriages and Billerica.

The affair was attended by over 500 people and a feature of the evening's program was the grand march in which all contestants for beauty honors participated. The contestants marched around the hall and passed in front of the judges' stand, and a few minutes later it was announced that Miss Dixon had been crowned as "Miss Lowell." The judges, who admit they had no easy task on hand, were as follows: John Merrill, William Curran, Frank Blizard, William Cleary and James Clancy.

NO LABOR DAY PARADE HERE THIS YEAR

There will be no Labor Day parade in Lowell this year. The question was definitely settled at a meeting of the Trades & Labor council held last evening. This action was taken because it was felt that the $1,000 appropriated by the city council for a labor demonstration, could serve a better purpose by being transferred to the out-door effort fund of the city. During the meeting there was some talk of holding a big mass meeting for the organized workers of Lowell and this matter was referred to the executive board of the council.

Lockwood, a brother, Charles P. Lockwood, and a niece, Charlotte M. Haskell, all of this city. She was a member of the First Congregational church and Centralville lodge of Rebekahs.

OLSON—Albin H. Olson, a lifelong resident of this city, died yesterday at his home, 123 Varnum place, aged 33 years and 26 days. He leaves his wife, Mary (McClure) Olson, one daughter, Gertrude; one son, Albin W.; his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Olof Olson; six sisters, Agnes, Edna, Mrs. Axel Olson, Mrs. Herbert Stromquist, Mrs. Oscar Erickson, Mrs. Randolph Johnson and Miss Mabel Olson, all of this city. Mr. Olson was an attendant of St. Patrick's church.

FUNERALS

McDONALD—The funeral services of Joseph A. McDonald were held yesterday afternoon at the funeral home, 217 Appleton street, and were largely attended. Rev. Nathaniel W. Matthews, pastor of the First Primitive Methodist church officiated. There were many beautiful floral tributes. The bearers were Benjamin F. Welch, William Cameron, W. G. Stewart and A. H. Rule. Burial took place in the family lot in the Edison cemetery, where the committal services were read by Rev. M. Smith. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker William H. Saunders.

STENPOZOWSKI—A very impressive funeral took place this morning at St. Stanislaw's church, where a solemn high mass was celebrated at 10 o'clock by Rev. M. J. Burke, assisted by Rev. M. J. O'Connor as deacon and Rev. D. J. O'Halloran as sub-deacon. Rev. Denis O'Brien, a Lowell boy now stationed at St. Paul's, Cambridge, acted as master of ceremonies. Seated in the sanctuary were Rev. Eugene A. Carey of East Milton, formerly of St. Michael's, this city, and Rev. Henry M. Taitan of Waltham, also formerly connected with St. Michael's. There was a wealth of floral and spiritual offerings, as deceased was well and favorably known, not only in Cambridge, but also in Lowell where she resided for a number of years. She was at one time a devout attendant of St. Michael's church here, being active in charitable affairs. The bearers were John W. O'Neill, Dr. R. J. McCuskey, Dr. M. J. Meagher, Martin Conley, Edward H. Foye and Peter Foye. All of Lowell. Burial took place in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where Rev. James F. Lynch of St. Michael's, assisted by Rev. Eugene Carey, read the committal prayers. Arrangements were in charge of Funeral Director James W. McKenna.

THE CAR SHOP STRIKERS

Tag Day Permit Granted—
Mass Meeting Planned—
Boxing Exhibition

There will be a tag day in this city on Saturday, Sept. 2, for the benefit of the strikers of the Boston & Maine carshops at Billerica. A permit to sell tags on the streets of Lowell was today granted to Walter H. Chandler, chairman of the Federated Crafts by Mayor Brown.

According to present arrangements a couple of hundred young women, friends and relatives of the strikers, will sell tags on the streets and the proceeds of the affair will be utilized in helping out the needy strikers.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock there will be a mass meeting for the strikers in Colonial theatre, Middlesex st., and it is expected that prominent speakers will address the gathering.

It was announced this morning that plans are practically completed for the big boxing exhibition, which will be conducted in the Crescent rink tomorrow night. The affair will be staged under the auspices of the Moody club for the benefit of the strikers and it is hoped the attendance will be large, for each man who will participate in the evening's program is a drawing card by himself.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Man Charged With Assault and Battery Turns Tables
on Complainant

Joseph Zumartia was arraigned in district court this morning on the charge of larceny on a warrant that was sworn out in December, 1917, five years ago. The man is alleged to have stolen on 23 yards of cloth from the Merrimack Manufacturing Co. at that time, and the name of Major Noyes is appended to the warrant. The case was continued for a week.

Zumartia had some trouble with John Sinowski and swore out a warrant against him for assault and battery. Sinowski became peeved and reported to the police that there was a warrant for Zumartia, the complainant in the assault case, charging him with larceny. The officers looked the matter up and found the ancient warrant. Zumartia was immediately arrested and booked for larceny, on the warrant dated December, 1917.

When questioned, he admitted that he had worked for the Merrimack mills, about five years ago. He said that he went to Holyoke, Mass., after and later returned to Lowell. The case was continued and in the meantime Major Noyes intends to look up the circumstances of the affair.

Harry Huggalan appeared before the court again this morning on a new complaint of threatening his wife. He is already under bail on assault and battery charge. The new complaint was continued to Aug. 28 and he was held in $200 bonds. The defendant was in court yesterday on the original charge and the man's wife formed Judge Enright that his father had threatened his mother's life since the first occurrence. The new warrant was then made out and the man apprehended.

The cases of Victorine Lovesque and Valentine Pikula, charged with illegal keeping of liquor, were continued to September 1. The case of Josef Janocha, who was alleged to have violated the motor laws by not stopping and giving his name after running over a dog, was continued to Aug. 30. Sinowski, who was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery on Joseph Zumartia, was held to August 31.

Said to Have Reached Some Sort of Definite Proposal for Settlement of Strike—"It's Now Up to Shopmen," Says Spokesman

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—"It's now up to the shopmen," said a spokesman for the big five brotherhood chiefs this afternoon, after they had conferred with a committee representing a group of twenty roads on a proposition for effecting separate settlements between individual roads and striking shopmen.

This was taken in some quarters as indicating that representatives of the running trades and representatives of roads totaling about 25 per cent. of the mileage of the United States had reached some sort of definite proposal for settlement, which had been reported to the shop groups at a meeting with the mediating brotherhood chiefs which followed the session with executives. A member of the shopmen's eastern strike committee, seated in the lobby of the Hotel Woodstock, serving as labor headquarters, made this comment to newspapermen:

"I'll tell you that there's going to be no settlement with any of the railroad roads. You can put that in your pipe and smoke it."

It was admitted at city hall today that the coal situation is causing considerable concern locally with the school season only a couple of weeks away.

Right at the present time the school department has some soft coal on hand, but it has no anthracite, according to the mayor. A shortage of domestic anthracite is considered a rather serious proposition for the school authorities to buck up against.

When Kilbane demanded 42½ per cent. of the receipts with a guarantee of $100,000, the legionnaires prepared to return to New York without his signature to the contract.

Body of Collins Reaches Dublin and

Impressive TributeMayor Brown Says Local Mills
Should Take Back Operatives
at Old Wage Scale

That the local mills are in good financial condition at the present time and that there is no reason for the wage cuts, is the opinion of Mayor George H. Brown, who has made public his stand regarding the strikes in an open letter. He further believes that the mills should at once take back their employees at the old wage scale and that the sooner such a step is taken the better.

The mayor says that general conditions throughout the country point to a rapid return of prosperity; that the action of the steel mills, the action of the Pacific mills in Lawrence and the general conditions of the stock market indicate that the country is on the verge of halation.

"The letter follows: 'General conditions throughout the country indicate a rapid return of prosperity. The raise in wages by the United States Steel company, the general stock market conditions and many other things point to the fact that the country is now entering upon a period of great prosperity. It is pretty well understood in well informed circles that there is no justification for reduction of wages at this time. The attitude of the Lawrence mill owners, attempting to arrive at a settlement for their employees also indicates these corporations can well afford to pay the wages demanded by the employees.

"I believe there is no justification for the mills refusing to give the employees their demands. It is known in well informed circles that all our local mills are in good financial condition. I believe, in the interests of the city, the employees should be put back to work at the former rate of wages. I believe this is done the sooner good feeling on the part of the employees toward their employers will be restored and general prosperity will come to the city. Public opinion will not tolerate local industries failing to respond to the general prosperity and treat their employees accordingly. I sincerely hope that within the next two weeks, all the former employees of the Lowell mills will be back at work with their demand for wages satisfied.

"It is understood in the best informed circles that the railroad also are prosperous. This is indicated in the steady rise of their stocks in the market. In the face of these conditions there is a very general belief that the rail strike should be adjusted without delay and it is to be hoped that by Labor day this also will be satisfactorily adjusted."

Mlle. NAUDAIN-HUET

Grandniece of Lafayette
Visits Lowell—Is Delighted With Auditorium

Mlle. Dauleta Naudain-Huet, grandniece of the Marquis de Lafayette, a noted French scholar, came to Lowell this afternoon and visited the auditorium. She is visiting friends in Lawrence and her presence here today was due to the efforts of Joseph M. Dineen of 25 Oliver street. Mr. Dineen is a friend of the Lawrence family with whom Mlle. Naudain-Huet is visiting and the story leading up to her coming here is an interesting one, having to do with the world war.

John and Charles Cronin of Lawrence served in France during the war and were entertained in Paris at the home of Mlle. Naudain-Huet, whose parents had turned over their ancestral home as a home for convalescent soldiers. The Cronin boys were so well treated that they invited their fair hostess to visit them at their home in Lawrence.

Some months ago Mlle. Naudain-Huet came to this country to study and having arrived here she determined to hunt up the Cronin brothers. Friends of her family accompanied her from New York to Lawrence and she says she is very much pleased with this section of the country.

Before going to the auditorium this afternoon, Mlle. Naudain-Huet called at city hall. The visitor expressed herself as perfectly delighted with the auditorium, stating that it was one of the grandest buildings she had ever seen. Upon leaving the auditorium she was whisked by auto to the attraction plant at the grandstand and later was the guest of the Lafayette club members at their outing in Tyngsboro.

Election Commission Looks for Heavy
Registration — Session Tomorrow
Night at Morey School—All Day
Session Aug. 31

Indications point to a big registration of voters at the coming five sessions of the elections commission which will be held within the next week. At least this is the way the members of the commission size up the situation. Registration sessions will be held tomorrow night and on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. These sessions will be the last before the state primaries which take place next month.

The session tomorrow night will be held in the Morey school from 7 until 9 o'clock and will be for voters of wards 3 and 5 only. On the first four days of next week the sessions will be held in the regular quarters at city hall and will be from 4 to 5 and 7 to 9 on the first three days, while on the last day a continuous session will be held from 2 until 5.

Hold One Session

Early this week the commission held a session in the C.M.A.C. club at which 101 voters were added to the lists. This is considered a goodly number and is sort of an indicator of what is to follow the latter part of this month.

Mellon Discusses Funding of War Debt

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Funding of the $4,135,000,000 war debt owed by Great Britain to the United States was declared today by Secretary Mellon to have no relation to the war loans made by the United States and Great Britain to other governments or to questions arising in connection with reparations payments of the former central powers.

The treasury secretary made his declaration with respect to the British debt in a formal statement issued, he said, on account of numerous inquiries reaching the treasury as to the exact status of the obligations of the various European governments held by the United States with respect to the British debt. Mr. Mellon said that the British liability was not incurred for the British government, but for the other allies, and that the United States, in making the original arrangements, had insisted in substance that, though the other allies were to use the money borrowed, it was only on British security that the United States was prepared to lend it.

Mr. Mellon quoted from a memorandum handed the British ambassador by the treasury in June, 1918, setting forth that the treasury deemed it a "cardinal principle" that each allied government should give its own obligations for commodities purchased and from another memorandum handed to the British ambassador in June, 1919, which said:

"It has been at all times the view of the United States treasury that questions regarding the indebtedness of the government of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland to the United States government and the funding of such indebtedness had no relation either to questions arising concerning the war loans of the United States and of the United Kingdom to other governments or to questions regarding the reparations payments of the central empires of Europe."

"From these two statements," Mr. Mellon said, "it appears to be quite clear that the respective borrowing nations each gave their own obligations for the money advanced by the United States and that no guarantee of the obligations of one borrowing nation was asked from any other nation. This is the understanding of the treasury as to the status of the foreign obligations growing out of the war, now held by the United States."

Some treasury officials were inclined to the view that inquiries as to the status of the British and other foreign obligations had been made as a result of the recent note of the earl of Balfour to the nations in debt to Great Britain declaring that the inter-European debts were inseparably linked with the international indebtedness to the United States.

Resignation of Cong. Volstead Requested

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Resignation of Representative Volstead, republican, Minnesota, as chairman, and as a member of the house judiciary committee, because of help alleged to have been given him in the last election by the Anti-Saloon League, was requested in a resolution presented and read in the house today by Representative Tinkham, republican, Massachusetts. Representative Mann, republican, Illinois, moved that it be laid on the table, and the motion was adopted with a loud chorus of ayes. After the resolution had been laid on the table, which move amounted to killing it, there was a demand, led by Representative Dyer, republican, Missouri, to strike it from the record, and this was ordered, 141 to 3.

NO GRAND OPERA
Rosemary Pfaff, 18, once the protegee of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, has given up hopes of an operatic career and has returned to the musical comedy stage.

passed in silence, broken only by the distant crack of snipers' rifles in various parts of the grief-stricken city. The cortege was flanked by a line of Dublin guards, marching in slow time, with the muzzles of their revolvers protruding from the holsters.

Immediately behind came an armed car bristling with rifles held at all angles, comprising an inconspicuous ending to the mournful procession. Several men who were wounded in the fighting near Bandon, County Cork, Tuesday night, in which Collins lost his life, had accompanied their beloved leader's body on the sea voyage to Dublin.

Among the little band of fighting men who made the last stand with Collins and who followed the body of the slain hero through the Dublin streets, with lowered heads, and tear-filled eyes, was a boyish figure wearing a ragged civilian coat and a tweed cap. Across his shoulders he carried a machine gun, the same gun with which, he said afterwards, he had poured a hail of lead into Collins' attackers.

Vivid Story of Fatal Ambush
After the procession, he told an interviewer in a shy and diffident manner, and in a voice often choked by emotion, a vivid story of the fatal ambush.

"The car in which Collins was riding," he said, "was the first to meet the ambushers' fire. There were at least 250 of them against twelve of us. It was about 9 o'clock when we passed through the village. We had not gone over 400 yards along the road when, from both sides, we were caught by a deadly cross of machine gun fire.

"The driver of Collins' car wanted to drive at full speed, but the general ordered him to halt and hold us to take cover. He took command of the whole situation and directed the fire against the attackers for nearly an hour. Two machine guns kept up incessant firing at Mick's open car, but up to then no one had been hurt, and it began to look as though the irregulars were going to scatter in order to risk no more casualties.

"It was during a lull in the attackers' fire that Mick noticed a sniper creeping on hands and knees some distance down the road behind him. Mick immediately went about a dozen yards in his direction with the object of stopping further movement in the rear of the party. At that moment, heavy firing swept across the road from both sides. The gun in the whisper-armed car which followed had jumped, lessening the effect of our fire.

"The sudden burst of shooting caused Mick to turn around for a few seconds and the next moment I saw him fall to the ground shot through the head. As he lay dying he shouted words of encouragement to his men to go on fighting and not mind him. Immediately there were cries of 'My God, Mick is shot.' Men rushed to his assistance. Although bleeding freely from a terribly incurred wound, he lived 15 minutes, during which he continued to fire his revolver."

DUBLIN, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press)—Dublin began to recover today from the shock caused by the dramatic death of Michael Collins, and continued to face flight.

VOTE $300,000 FOR COAL INDUSTRY PROBE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—With the Winslow bill proposing a fact-finding investigation of the coal industry by a commission without representation of operators and miners passed by the house, Chairman Borah, of the senate labor committee, was prepared to call upon today, his pending senate bill which, although differing in some respects from the house measure, also has been approved in the main by President Harding.

Passage of the Winslow bill in the house late yesterday by a vote of 223 to 55, followed three separate attempts by Representative Brand, republican, Indiana, to amend the measure so as to provide representation on the commission for miners and operators. The provision for nine members on the commission was retained over attempts to reduce it to five, but the proposal of a committee was cut from $10,000 to $7500, and the appropriation for the cost of the inquiry was reduced from $500,000 to $300,000.

COLORED PEOPLE HOLD ANNUAL OUTING

The annual outing of the colored colony of Malden, is being held at Lakeview today. Three special cars passed through Lowell at noon, all bound for the popular resort where, for the past several years, the annual affair has been held. Despite the fact that a previous outing at the same place resulted in the accidental drowning of one of their number, the picnicers reveled in their anticipation of the usual good time attendant upon their arrival at the lake.

SCHOOL GIRLS HAVE TOO MUCH WORK TO DO

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Girls require more opportunities for play than they get and boys should share domestic tasks with girls, in the opinion of Dr. W. H. Hamer, London's school medical officer. He has come to the conclusion that school girls have too much work to do and that in consequence they suffer more than boys from defective vision, heart disease, anemia and spinal curvature. "These can all be traced to the same set of causes," he says, "less opportunity for play than boys, less time spent in the open air, the performance of household duties, and, in regard to school, a different curriculum." The latter suggestion refers particularly to sewing. "The habitual employment and methods of instruction to which girls are subjected, particularly sewing, are harmful," says Dr. Hamer.

The surface of the earth is one twelve-thousandth that of the sun. Fourteen thousand species of moths and butterflies exist in Brazil.

Registration for voting will be held at Morey school tomorrow (Friday) evening, between 7 and 9 p. m. Any person desiring transportation, please phone 70708-W or 254-J.

TO PUT MUFLERS ON ROOSTERS AND PIGEONS

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 24.—The residents of the Ridgewood section have placed a problem before the police by asking that muflers be placed on the crowing of roosters and cooing of pigeons until 7 a. m. A campaign against street hawkers has just been brought to a successful conclusion and the dwellers in Ridgewood declare that their sleep is now broken at 4.15 every morning by the rusty clanking of neighborhood charlatans. Just who is to turn the muflers on and off the police have not yet decided.

CAVANAUGH WOULD STOP PROFITEERING

Declaring that he would stop the profiteering by enforcing the statutes as written, Jas. F. Cavanaugh, a candidate for the republican nomination for attorney general, addressed rallies last night at Tower's corner, city hall and Palgo and Bridge streets.

"There has been a good deal of discussion," he said, about unlawful profiteering. I know what a part the various elements, rent, fuel and food play in every household. I know how powerless the individual is to extricate himself from the burden of the high cost of living by his own unaided effort.

"The chief law officer of the commonwealth can do what a plain citizen cannot. Our laws give him the power. One of my opponents is going about the state declaring that if elected attorney-general he will get after the profiteers, but only if the legislature enacts more laws. He says there is no reached and if elected he will devote his time to having the legislature pass a new law dealing with the sale of the necessities of life. By this statement he openly acknowledges that if elected attorney-general he will be helpless to remedy the evils of profiteering which press so heavily on the people. "If this man is really a friend of the people, if he is really equipped with adequate knowledge of the laws of this state, with whose enforcement an attorney-general is entrusted, he should know that there is sufficient law on the statute books today to enable an attorney-general to start on the task of doing away with unlawful profiteering the very day he assumes office. "I am firmly convinced that we have sufficient law, and if elected attorney-general I will not ask the legislature for any additional laws. I will proceed under the existing law and this unlawful profiteering shall be stopped."

UMBRELLAS

New umbrellas are very short and some of them have a big ring at the top and so that they may be carried in this vertical fashion it desired. The newest models have 10 bones instead of eight. Leather, carved and composition handles are shown.

NEW GLOVES

The use of these embroidery is a novelty on gloves. So are velvet linings. One pair of white kids gloves is lined with purple velvet, another of tan color has a brown lining. Fancy contrasting cuffs are interesting features.

HARD COAL DEADLOCK

Both Sides in Receptive Mood, But Neither Shows Sign of Making First Move

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—While both sides were said to be in a receptive mood today, there was no sign or a move either from the operators or miners toward suggesting a solution of the deadlock over the situation in the hard coal fields.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, said that he did not know when he would leave the city.

Samuel D. Warriner, president of the Lehigh Coal & Navigation company, who led the operators' representatives in the recent negotiations, held a consultation yesterday with W. J. Richards, president of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company, and both were reported to have been in communication with William A. Glasgow, Jr., the attorney appointed by Secretary of Commerce Hoover to bring the opposing sides in the anthracite controversy together.

FIGARO EDITOR SPEAKS

Political Writer for Paris Paper Discusses Propaganda at Williamstown

WILLIAMSTOWN, AUG. 24.—"There is no doubt that every government, every ministry, has the journalists it deserves," said M. Raymond Recodly, political editor of Figaro, speaking at the Institute of Politics this morning on "Press Propaganda and International Politics." He said that "if you wish them to behave as gentlemen, you must treat them as gentlemen. Nothing can be more important or more beneficial under the present circumstances when the world has just emerged from the most terrible of wars, than for one country to keep the others informed of the exact state of affairs. Agencies and papers are the only means we possess for doing that."

"Every country, every government has the right and the duty to see that the essential facts, the news of the most important events, should be brought before the public abroad without distorting the truth. But its initiative should stop there. It is none of its business to try and take the place of the press, by founding press bureaus, more or less in disguise, so as to sway public opinion. That is the prerogative of the press and its members. If they do not fulfill the functions of their profession as they should, the papers who employ them would soon know of it, and would not be long in replacing them by other and better qualified men."

Historic Press to Be Exhibited
in Front of The Sun Building, Friday

The first printing press ever used in the United States will be on exhibition in front of The Sun Building on Friday, August 25, at 10 a. m. It is the old Stephen Daye press and was brought to Boston in 1638 and set up in Cambridge. Later it passed into the hands of Samuel Green, whose descendants took it to New London, Conn., where it remained until 1773. It was then taken to Norwich, Conn. Five years later it was moved to Dresden, now Hanover, New Hampshire. From there it was taken to Westminster, Vermont, where on February 12, 1781, it was used for printing The Vermont Gazette. Green Mountain Post Boy, the first newspaper published in Vermont. In 1783 it was moved to Windsor, Vermont, and used for printing the Vermont Journal and Universal Advertiser. It is now in the possession of the Vermont Historical Society and preserved at the state capital, Montpelier.

Through the kindness of this society it has been loaned for exhibition at the Second Educational Grapho Arts Exposition, in Boston, August 26, Sept. 2.

It will be brought over the road from Montpelier in an especially constructed Packard truck, arranged for through the courtesy of B. Frank Nier, sales manager of the Packard Motor Car company.

That people along the way may have an opportunity to see this historic press the following schedule has been arranged and will be followed as closely as circumstances will permit.

Leave Montpelier—Thursday, August 24.
Montpelier—7 a. m. Eastern standard time.

Wells River—9 a. m. Eastern standard time 38.1 miles.

Haverhill—10 a. m. Eastern standard time 9.6 miles.

West Plymouth—Eastern standard time 31.3 miles.

Franklin—1.30-2.30 p. m. Eastern standard time 27.2 miles.

Concord—3 p. m. Eastern standard time 12.2 miles.

Manchester—5 p. m. Daylight saving time 15.4 miles.

Over night in Manchester—Leave Manchester—Friday, August 25.

Manchester—8 a. m. Daylight saving time.

Nashua—9 a. m. Daylight saving time.

Lowell—10 a. m. Daylight saving time.

Boston—11 a. m. Daylight saving time.

The whole trip is 202 miles. The stop over in Manchester has been arranged so that all traveling may be done in daylight and give people a chance to see the oldest press in the country.

Mr. Joseph J. Dallas, director of the Second Educational Grapho Arts Exposition will accompany the party and Mr. J. P. Felch will drive the truck.

FALL RIVER WOMEN MAY SMOKE IN PUBLIC

FALL RIVER, Aug. 24.—Fall River women may smoke in public, even in the city street, if they wish, according to Chief of Police M. J. Feeney. The chief made this announcement yesterday in discussing the recent alleged assault committed by a New York police officer on a young woman who smoked on a public thoroughfare.

"If a crowd follows the young woman who dares to smoke in Main street, the police can only disperse the crowd. The young woman would be within her rights, he said.

"I do not anticipate any trouble over smoking in this city," the chief concluded. "Our women seem to be pretty sensible and level-headed and smoking in public will only bring them notoriety."

IRENE CASTLE IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

ITHACA, N. Y., Aug. 24.—While riding Buckshot, one of her favorite jumpers, over the practice court of the Cornell campus yesterday, Irene Castle suffered serious injuries that will confine her to her home on Cayuga Heights for the next eight weeks and compel her to cancel her entries in several horse shows as well as motion pictures and dancing contracts.

Collarbone Broken

Mrs. Treman, who has been spending much of her summer at her home here, planned to enter six thoroughbred jumpers in the horse show at the state fair at Syracuse and Rochester and later in New York city. It has been her custom to ride these horses every morning and then turn them up for coming exhibitions. Yesterday she chose Buckshot for her mount.

The accident occurred as the horse attempted to clear a five-foot jump. He stumbled and fell, with Mrs. Treman under him. A groom hastened to her aid and soon extricated her from beneath the plunging horse.

She was at once removed to her home in an automobile, where physicians discovered that she had suffered a fracture of the right collarbone and numerous severe bruises. Her condition last night was reported to be satisfactory.

GEN. EDWARDS SOON TO BE RETIRED

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—The retirement of Major-General Clarence R. Edwards, commander of the First Corps area, is to be hastened, according to reliable authority. Instead of waiting until next January, when he would come under the age limit, the "Daily" of the 26th division is to be retired within a month.

This action is to be taken for the purpose of retaining certain younger officers who otherwise would be dropped under the reduced quota. It is understood that the army "Punch" board, Major-General Dickman, chairman, advised the retirement of General Edwards and several other major-generals, before the completion of their service limit, and that Secretary of War Weeks and Senator Lodge endorsed the board's decision.

When seen last night, General Edwards said that he had understood that the retirement of all army officers over 62 was favored to make room for the younger men, but it was the general impression that the retirement was to occur in December. That was all he knew about the matter, he said.

YOUNG WOOD'S DEATH

REPORT MUTINY ON AMERICAN STEAMER

He Was Not to Blame For Fatal Crash as Shown by Investigation

At the request of Cornelius A. Wood, brother of William M. Wood, Jr., recently killed in the automobile accident, the following account of the accident is published in order to correct the first stories of the accident which placed the blame chiefly on young Wood. The Sun presents this account in the interests of truth and justice.

Investigation of the automobile accident in which William M. Wood, Jr., son of the president of the American Woolen company, lost his life, tends to prove that the young man was not the victim of his own reckless driving, as was first supposed, but of some one else's carelessness, and that instead of censure he deserves credit.

His wrecked Rolls Royce car alone comes pretty near clearing him of all responsibility for the accident. The forward bumper, which extends across the whole width of the car is intact. Likewise the two headlights and the radiator. This proves conclusively that Wood did not strike any other car head on.

The left front wheel, however, was smashed and the left front mudguard was crushed in against the radiator. This shows that the collision occurred while Wood was turning away in an effort to avoid it. It also shows that he was on the right side of the road and that the other machine was cutting in on him from the left.

Gardner Rice, the old Harvard track man, who was riding in the car with Wood, says that the latter turned out to pass the oncoming car. If that is so, the oncoming car was traveling in the middle of the road.

According to eyewitnesses the Wood car and two others were about abreast on the road when the trouble occurred. Wood was going toward Andover and the other two were traveling in the opposite direction toward Haverhill. The road at that point is 32½ feet wide with plenty of room for three cars to pass properly.

According to Rice, Wood, although he turned out for the oncoming car, was unable to avoid the collision and when he turned in again to get on the machine once more, the curving surface of the road caused the car to turn over and hit the pole, planting Wood against it and killing him almost instantly.

Cornelius A. Wood was elected a director of the American Woolen company yesterday to succeed his brother, William M. Wood, Jr.

FOSTER ARRESTED IN "RED" ROUNDUP

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—William Z. Foster, president of the Trades Union Educational league, who has been sought by federal agents as one of those participating in an alleged radical convention held in a forest near Bridgman, Mich., was taken into custody last night while in the offices of the educational league. Foster strongly denied having attended the convention which was raided by federal officers and state troops.

Later a federal agent, accompanied by a representative of the police department and a private detective, searched Foster's apartment, but declared they had found nothing of value. Meanwhile, Foster was held in a police cell for extradition to Michigan. "My arrest is an outrage," Foster declared. "I was not at the meeting in Michigan and I will hire the best lawyers in the west to fight extradition."

It was said that the arrest was expected soon of two men said to represent the soviet government of Russia.

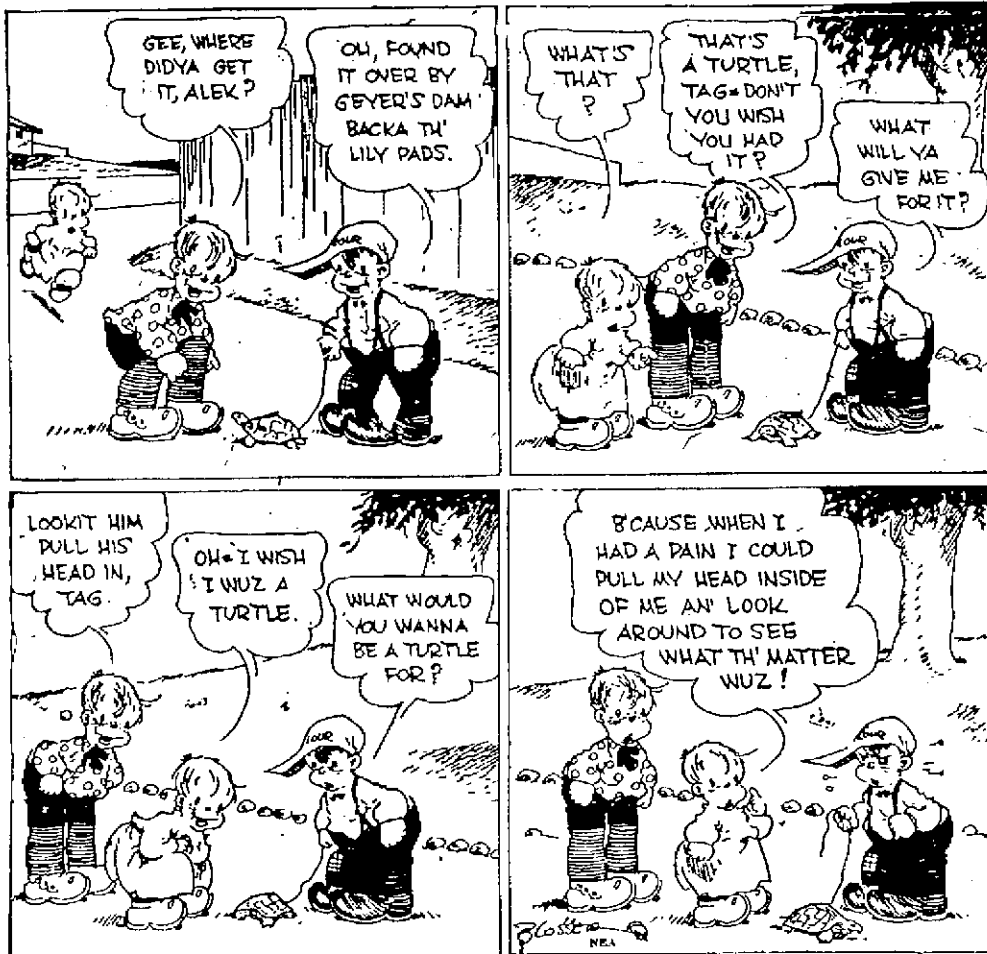

General orders read at roll call stated his dismissal was "with charges pending against him." The officer previously had offered his resignation.

The Greenleaf dismissal marked the third discharge of members of the police force yesterday. Patrolman Michael J. Burawsky and William L. Donahue of Division 10, alleged to have been under the influence of liquor while riding in an automobile which crashed into another machine on Adams street, Dorchester, were the other officers dismissed.

Individual Settlements

score of railroads today prepared to thresh out the possibility of individual lines settling with their striking shopmen.

This possibility was raised by leaders of the running trades, appearing as mediators, at a conference yesterday with the entire membership of the Association of Railway Executives, which rejected the proposal of the brotherhood men that the rail heads yield on the disputed question of seniority rights.

Encouraged by a belief that individual settlements might yet prove the basis for peace, the big five leaders conferred until after midnight with the heads of a score or more of executives, who, when the general conference adjourned, expressed a willingness to continue negotiations, although reaffirming their common stand against the unions' seniority proposals.

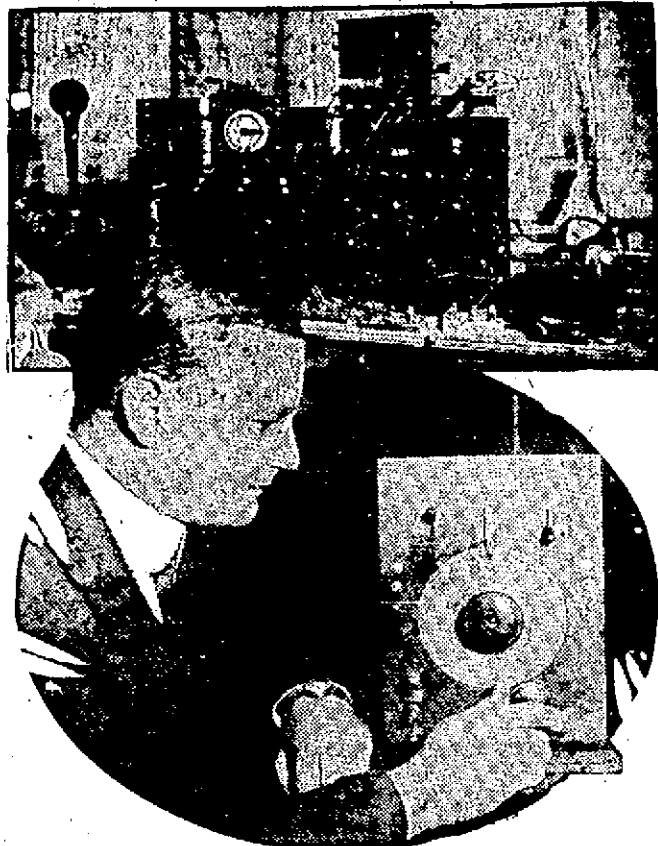

Daniel Willard, spokesman for the group of executives, had previously announced that they would meet the brotherhood chiefs again "early today" but without disclosing where or when the session would take place. It was reported unofficially, however, that the Yale club, scene of yesterday's major developments, again would be the seat of negotiations.

The exact status of the renewed negotiations remained this morning somewhat clouded.

Both the executives who conferred last night with the brotherhood men and those who prepared to leave for their homes early in the evening, united in asserting that the negotiations were continued for the purpose of testing the sincerity of the mediators in suggesting the possibility of separate settlements. It was announced, however, that any individual settlement would have to be made in the light of the understanding on seniority reached at the general session of the Association of Railway Executives.

Radiographs

Simpler Radio Wanted

HOW RADIO IS BEING SIMPLIFIED: ABOVE, A "MODERN" COMPLICATED SET; BELOW, DR. ALFRED N. GOLDSMITH AT HIS "ONE-DIAL" SET.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Radio will lead the phonograph in popularity when its operation is simplified. So say prominent radio engineers and dealers who have been trying to develop this new instrument to a high state of efficiency. To back up their statement they show figures of their tremendous sale of radio instruments and parts during the last year or so. This sale, they say, will continue even stronger when autumn comes and warm weather does not force radio enthusiasts outdoors. But it will be mostly to amuse and other fans. The layman will not consider the installation of a radio set until the simple and efficient apparatus is produced.

One Control
Radio engineers are fast approaching this goal, Dr. Alfred N. Goldsmith of the College of the City of New York, has already perfected a radio receiving instrument which has only one main control and an auxiliary control. Comparing this with the set of many knobs, dials, switches and other controls, Dr. Goldsmith has brought the new science down to simplicity of operation. Still, says Dr. Goldsmith, the radio receiving set must be developed so that any person, who knows nothing about its operation, may be able to "tune in" on a radio concert with a single turn of a knob or by merely pushing a button. Then, he says, radio will gain the public favor faster than any invention has in the past. Besides simplicity of operation, however, a high state of efficiency is desired. As regards efficiency, engineers say, radio is still in its infant stage.

Not more than one-fourth of the energy put into a transmitting instrument is caught at the receiving end. Sometimes as low as four per cent. of the original energy remains to be received.

Static
This loss is somewhere in the transmitting apparatus. But there is also a great loss in the receiving end, which engineers are trying to compensate. Between these two there is the overlying bugaboo of radio fans—static. Like the grating of the phonograph needle, which may mar the tone of a record, static interferes in the reception of broadcast messages and concerts.

Engineers connected with the United States bureau of standards and others working for private firms, have been trying to eliminate this interference. But they have yet to arrive at the proper formula for its submission.

OUTING AT WILLOW DALE
Willow Dale was the scene last Tuesday of the outing of the mothers and children of the Middlesex Park playground. The party, numbering about 47, made the trip by auto truck. During the afternoon a program of sports was run off and suitable prizes awarded the winners of the various events. The big feature of the day was the basket lunch. The return trip was made at 7 o'clock in the evening, after a very enjoyable day. The outing was planned and carried out by the mothers of the children attending the playground.

RYAN ASSETS

BRING $8600

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Tangible as- sets of Allan Ryan, Wall street broker and manipulator of the famous "Stutz Corner," who recently was thrown into bankruptcy with liabilities of $18,000,000, were sold yesterday for $8600.

The sale approved yesterday by Bankruptcy Referee Peter B. Olney, included 17 leases, several promissory notes, an accident policy with no cash value, a certificate of membership in a country club, redeemable for $250; 60 Community club certificates, valued at $250; 15 pieces of jewelry; 50 shares of Stutz Motor stock; interest in several mortgages, and shares in several small enterprises, including a baseball club. Ryan said that he started more than a year ago to borrow money on his three life insurance policies of $50,000 each and that he had borrowed all but $1100 "on all of them. One of the policies was written by the New York Life Insurance company, another by the Equitable and the third by the State Mutual of Worcester, Mass.

TIMOTHY ASH GIVEN FAREWELL RECEPTION

Timothy Ash, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ash of 17 Claire street, who is soon to leave for Old Point Comfort, where he will begin his studies with a view of becoming a member of the Hawaiian brothers was tendered a fare- well reception by his classmates of St. Patrick's boys' school at the home of Mrs. Ella Smith, 38 Sargent street, last evening.

Young Ash is one of the most popular young men of the school and last season played an important part in the athletic activities of the institution. He was a star player on the basket- ball team, which made a most remark- able record, and competed for the city championship against the St. Anne's quintet. He also was identified with other branches of sport. In school, he was very successful and won many hon- ors in the class room.

Those who assembled to say farewell last evening warmly congratulated the young man on his decision to enter the religious order, and wished him suc- cess. He was presented several suit- able gifts.

FINE PROGRAM AT COLONIAL HALL

Violin selections, vocal soloists, dra- matic readers, and impersonations put forth their very best in an enter- taining program at Colonial hall last night for the benefit of the Children's Home in Hoxford square. An audience of over 200 attended to enjoy the program and help the home.

Miss Belle Harrington Hall was the first entertainer and she had the audi- ence in an uproar as she interpreted several amusing pieces. Then, there were several solos by Miss Emily Con- greve, who was cheered for her beauti- ful work. Thompson Blood next en- tertained with impersonations of vari- ous characters and they were well re- ceived. The program closed with sev- eral entrancing violin solos by Paul Gagnon.

This recipe gives an opportunity to use stale cake. Any cake except molasses or spice cake may be used, as well as any kind of preserved or dried fruits, as raisins or currants.

One pint milk, 2 whole eggs or yolks 2 eggs, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon gelatin soaked in 1/4 cup cold water, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 cup fruit, stale cake, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Make a custard using milk, eggs, sugar and salt. Add gelatin soaked in the cold water. Have ready a mold or bread pan and in it pour enough of the custard to cover the bottom.

Place the mold in ice and when mix- ture sets cover with a part of the fruit and pieces of cake. Add some more of the custard and again allow it to set before putting another layer of fruit and cake.

Repeat until all the material has been used. Let stand in a cold place until the mold is firm enough to turn out. It may be served with whipped cream or some preserved fruit, or just as it is.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION

The state highway commission, which visited the city yesterday, ex- pressed much satisfaction over the progress being made on the First street boulevard. In addition to inspecting the First street end of the work, the commission went over the entire road.

Kellogg's KRUMBLES

deliciously flavored
WHOLE-WHEAT

Getting Real Joy Out of Life!

Men and women who can "get close to the ground" and romp with the youngsters; who can hike, vault fences, make long swims—men and women who stand out physically and mentally prove the result of proper, balanced nourishment! They are equipped to enjoy life to the limit!

Give children Kellogg's delicious whole-wheat KRUMBLES—with the full, enticing whole-wheat flavor for the first time—and make them thrive and grow big and robust and red-blooded! Whole-wheat KRUMBLES contain in correct proportion every vital food element needed to sustain human life!

Whole-wheat KRUMBLES are a necessity to offset the denatured, bleached-out foods that flood our tables in the guise of "palate-ticklers." KRUMBLES make bone and muscle and red blood! KRUMBLES rebuild puny, undersized, underfed striplings and send them into the world as rugged men and women!

Fathers—mothers, realize what KRUMBLES will mean to your children, to yourself. Buy KRUMBLES at your grocer's!

The only whole-wheat food with a delicious flavor!

Bars Importation of Adult Honey Bees

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The senate yesterday passed the bill prohibiting importation of adult honey bees. The measure is designed to check what is feared by department of agriculture experts, may develop into virtually a world-wide plague known as the Isle of Wight disease.

THE CHAMPION VOLLEY BALL TEAM

The North common volleyball team, having won the championship of the Central Playground League, has also annexed the title of city champions as the result of recent victories over the Moody team, champions of the Southern League and the Vermont champions of the Eastern. The winning combination comprised: Bessie Apple, Capt.; Olga Lachman, Elsie Tremblay, Cecile Probst, Winnie Meloy, Jennie Macdonald, Lillian Lachman, Rita Corbitt, Alice Gillick and Mayella Brouke.

The Butler school team has been declared city champion in captain ball. They first won the championship of their own division, the Southern, and then defeated the South common, Central League winners, and the Vermont Eastern League leaders. The Butler lineup follows: Florence Goodfield, Alice Whittemore, Vera Gleason, Gladys Droney, Mary Pendergast, Violet West, Gladys O'Keefe and Gertrude O'Keefe.

TRYON TO REPAIR STOCKINGS

Edward R. Tryon, head of the chain of Tryon Stocking stores, announced today that he has something new for his Lowell store, in a silk stocking repair department. Here men or women may bring their silk stockings to be repaired and this economical way of making the high price stockings last should prove very popular here.

Reader Takes Newer Form of Iron—Feels Years Younger

"Six weeks ago I saw a special offer in the paper telling how thousands of people grow old in looks and energy long before they are really old in years because, as examinations by physicians have shown, an enormous number of people do not have enough iron in their blood. I have been taking Nuxated Iron for two weeks; the results are simply astounding. The rosy have come back in my lips and cheeks, and I can conscientiously say that I feel ten years younger."

The above is a typical hypothetical case showing the results that have been achieved by a great many people since we started this "satisfaction or money back" offer on Nuxated Iron. We will make you the same guarantee. If, after taking the two week's treatment of Nuxated Iron, you do not feel and look years younger, we will promptly refund your money. Call at once for a bottle of Nuxated Iron at Green's Drug Store, A. W. Dows, F. H. Butler & Co., Frye & Crawford Drug Co., Burdettshaw Drug Co., etc.

WOULD HOLD ALLIED MEETING IN VENICE

PARIS, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—The French government has definitely agreed to the holding of an allied meeting in Venice to discuss the difficulties between Greece and Turkey. It was announced today in a note replying to a British government communication of a few days ago.

Representatives of Greece and of the Turkish governments of Ankara and Constantinople will be invited to attend.

plans went forward for the meeting of the new southern parliament on Saturday, when the ministerial changes necessitated by the sudden removal of Collins and Arthur Griffith, are expected to be made.

Meanwhile, William T. Cosgrave is acting as the head of the provisional Free State government, and Richard Mulcahy, as chief of staff, is directing the final phase of the national army's campaign against the irregulars.

The absorbing question of who is to succeed Collins is voted on all sides and, besides Cosgrave and Mulcahy, the names of Kevin O'Higgins, minister of economical affairs; General O'Connell, assistant chief of staff; and General Gerald O'Sullivan are frequently mentioned.

General Collins' body reached Dublin by steamer this morning from Cork, and was met by an enormous number of mourners, among whom were representatives of the army, including Chief of Staff Mulcahy.

A solemn requiem high mass will be celebrated at 11 o'clock Monday morning in the pro-cathedral, directly after which the body will be conveyed to the famous Glasnevin cemetery where Collins buried his colleague, Griffith, only a little more than a week ago.

Planned to Redraft Constitution
LONDON, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—At the time of his death Michael Collins had under consideration plans to redraft several sections of the constitution of the Irish Free State so as to placate the more radical republican element. "The name known today by Michael Francis Doyle, Philadelphia lawyer, who arrived from Dublin where he went to consult with the members of the provisional government."

Mr. Doyle was the last American, he believes, to see the Free State commander-in-chief alive. He had several conferences with Collins, and on the day before the latter went to the south, where he was fated to fall under a bullet, they went carefully over the different points of the constitution which it had been planned to redraft.

If these points could be arranged to satisfy the republican radicals, General Collins believed there was a possibility of inducing the Irish people as a whole to rally around the constitution. Mr. Doyle has been asked by the remaining Irish leaders to continue his study of the constitution and may return to Dublin with legal suggestions.

Boston Plans Memorial Service
BOSTON, Aug. 24.—A group of citizens interested in Irish affairs, and deeply stirred by the tragic deaths of Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins, held an informal meeting last night to consider arrangements for a great memorial meeting to be held in Boston.

It was felt that Boston, so long the home of ardent sympathy for Ireland, should in some way signify the grief felt at the passing of the two great leaders. The meeting is to be purely a memorial. No discussion of the present political situation in Ireland is intended. Leading citizens of the city will be asked to take part.

A strong list of speakers is already under consideration. The date of the meeting has not yet been fixed. Matthew Cunningham was chosen to act as temporary chairman of the committee. A permanent organization will be effected at a meeting on Sunday night.

Pope Deeply Moved

ROME, Aug. 24.—The pope, deeply moved by the death of Michael Collins, issued a statement, in which he said: "The epidemic of political murders which has lately occurred, particularly that of Field Marshal Wilson, and now this of General Collins, shows the need of the masses to return to the teachings of Christian doctrine, love and peace among men, and the necessity for them to realize that violence does not secure triumph in any cause."

"Calamity," Says Glynn

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 24.—"The assassination of Michael Collins is a calamity to Ireland and the Irish," declared ex-Gov. Martin H. Glynn, last night.

Mr. Glynn's efforts to bring about a peaceful settlement of the Irish problem have acquainted him with many of Ireland's prominent leaders.

"Following upon the demise of Arthur Griffith," said Mr. Glynn's statement, "this cold blooded slaying of Michael Collins is a calamity to Ireland and the Irish."

"Mr. Collins was a man of intense convictions. In makeup, temperament, and bravery he was a good deal like Theodore Roosevelt. He had the snap and decision that made Roosevelt popular and powerful. He was generally and fairly beloved throughout Ireland and his slaying will arouse a resentment that will come home to plague those responsible.

"Ninety per cent of the people of Ireland are for the Free State and the threats of fanatics and slaying by gunmen cannot alter this fact.

"The slayers of Michael Collins are playing into the hands of Ireland's enemies and slaughtering Ireland's chances to take her place among the nations of the world."

London Papers Comment

LONDON, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—Michael Collins' sudden removal from the arena of Irish affairs, is given considerable space in this morning's newspapers. Naturally, there is a greater effort to eulogize him, to describe his meteoric career and romantic personality and to pay tribute to his "gay bravery" than there is to look into the dark cloud of Ireland's immediate future.

The Westminster Gazette recalls that for centuries, Irishmen have never lacked political leaders of ability when the occasion for their need arose. But the fact that eight months after the Anglo-Irish treaty was signed only one of the Irish signatories, remains in power, with the other Free State ministers unknown quantities, in England, is emphasized by the Times in support of its opinion that it is impossible to regard the future without forebodings.

The editorial writers generally ask who is left to carry on the policy for which Collins and Arthur Griffith stood, but only the Daily Chronicle suggests the possibility of the British government again taking a hand in Irish affairs.

The Daily Mail declares that aarchy and murder are again in the ascendant in Ireland, and believes General Collins paid the penalty of his policy of liberating the rebels once he had captured them. The newspaper urges that what is left of the Free State government leave nothing to chance.

The Daily Herald, labor organ, would have the British "refrain from further inflicting the Irish strife by comments and accusations, for Ireland at this time is a terrible object lesson in the futility of force, but it is a British who began the use of force."

"Who next?" asks the Morning Post which views the killing of Collins as a sequel to the assassination of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson and a prelude to further murders both in Ireland and England.

The more general editorial opinion, however, is that the Irish people have had their lesson, and that if, for the moment, there is no strong directing hand, now forces have come into being that are urging Ireland along the road to peace, and that, until convinced that patriotism and political capacity are dead, Ireland cannot and will not despair.

A Belfast despatch to the Evening News today says it is clear that Michael Collins had a premonition of death. Recently Collins saw a Belfast friend to whom he said upon, taking leave:

"Good-bye. I will say good-bye because I don't expect I shall ever see you again."

The correspondent adds that it is stated in Belfast that Collins had been "sentenced to death" by the Irish republican brotherhood.

Wedding Set for Tuesday

LONDON, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—The marriage of Michael Collins, slain chief of the Irish Free State, to Miss Kitty Kiernan, had been fixed originally for last Tuesday, the day Collins was killed, says a Dublin despatch to the Evening News. The wedding had been postponed, however, until later this month on account of the death of Arthur Griffith, president of the Dail Eireann cabinet.

Miss Kiernan, daughter of a prominent business man of County Longford, had bought her trousseau.

DE VALERA AIDES DENY REBELS USED MONEY

DUBLIN, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—Friends of Eamon de Valera last evening issued a statement with reference to the injunction granted in New York Monday restraining local banks from releasing to De Valera or his agents money on deposit in them which had been collected for the Irish republican cause. The statement says that not one dollar has been drawn from these funds and expended on the operations of the irregular forces.

It was agreed, the statement continues, after a vote in the Dail Eireann, that no part of any money raised on loans in America should be expended for political purposes and that no withdrawals for any purpose should be made except by the unanimous consent of the three trustees of the fund, J. J. O'Mara, Bishop Fogarty and De Valera.

$1,000,000 FOR PERMANENT CURE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Payment by the government of $1,000,000 to the person who discovers a permanent cure for any one of five diseases was proposed yesterday in a bill by Representative Sprout, republican, Illinois. The diseases enumerated are tuberculosis, pneumonia, cancer, epilepsy, and dementia praecox. A board composed of medical experts of the army, navy and public health service would determine whether discoveries were effective.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND

Did you ever see how the Elks enjoy themselves at their annual outing? If you haven't, then visit The Strand and see the motion pictures taken at their annual outing at Martin Luther grounds, Tyngsboro, last week. You'll be amused and surprised. The pictures give intimate glimpses of well known local and out-of-town men. They're amusing and interesting.

"The Man With Two Mothers," called one of the most artistic and impressive screen dramas of the year, will be shown at The Strand today. It is Mary Allen, who played the part of the mother in "The Old Nest" will be seen again in one of her really wonderful interpretations, and Colleen Landis, Sylvia Broomer and others will assist in the cast. The second feature will introduce Viola Dana in another of her sparkling comedy dramas, "Seeing Is Believing." It's the story of an amateur scandal-maker. Don't miss seeing this bill. It's considered one of the best balanced of the season.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Seiton has a more entertaining production been shown on a Lowell screen than "Penrod," the noted Booth Parkington story now being presented at the Merrimack Square theatre. It's well worth seeing.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

The property at the corner of Garden road and Andover street, which consists of a 10-room house and 10,000 square feet of land owned by Walter E. Durfee of Geneva, N. Y., and formerly of this city, has been sold to Charles B. Burd of the Lowell Motor Sales Co. Clive V. Hockmeyer, who has been occupying the Durfee property for some time, has purchased the home of George Taylor at 105 Sherman street. M. L. Lurvey has purchased the 15-room lodging house at 90 Westford street from Mary K. Farrell.

ORDINANCE IS INVALID

City Solicitor Gives Opinion on Rent Ordinance Submitted by Councilor Adams

Several weeks ago Councilor Smith J. Adams introduced, at a meeting of the council, an ordinance to prevent landlords from jumping rents without first making the move known to city officials. According to the ordinance, landlords would be compelled to notify the city of all increases since the first of the year. City Solicitor Edward J. Tierney gave out an opinion yesterday which in substance the ordinance to be invalid inasmuch as the ordinance would impose obligations upon real estate owners exceeding those made by the legislature. The law-head of the city thinks that any move should come from the state rather than the city in the matter.

The ordinance and the opinion follow: Do it ordained by the City Council of the city of Lowell, as follows: Section 1. All persons, firms, or corporations, resident or non-resident in the city of Lowell, owning real estate in said city, and not using or occupying the same for themselves or itself, and receiving rent or other income from said real estate shall after the date of the passage of this ordinance, notify the board of assessors in writing of any increase made by said owners in the rental or charge for use and occupation of said real estate at the time said increase in rental or charge for use and occupation becomes effective. This ordinance shall take effect upon its passage.

Section 2. All persons, firms or corporations, resident or non-resident, owning real estate in this city, the rent or charge for use and occupation of which has been increased from January 1, 1922, to the date of the passage of this ordinance, shall within thirty (30) days from the date of the passage of this ordinance, furnish the board of assessors in writing a statement of such increase in rental or increased charge for use and occupation of said real estate.

Section 3. Any person, firm or corporation failing to comply with the foregoing provisions of this ordinance shall be subject to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) and not more than five hundred dollars ($500).

Section 4. This ordinance shall take effect upon its passage. To Stephen Flynn, Clerk of the City Council.

Dear Sir:—In reply to the request of the committee on ordinances for my opinion as to the validity of the proposed ordinance to provide the board of assessors with necessary and material information to better enable said board to justly appraise and fix the value of real estate for purposes of taxation, I beg to say that the authority of the city in the proposed ordinance is not found in the statutes giving cities and towns general powers to make for specified purposes (Sec. 21, Chapter 40, Laws of 1902) orders and by-laws, not repugnant to law, as they may judge most conducive to their welfare, which shall be binding upon all inhabitants and all persons within their limits. They may, except as herein provided, attach penalties for breaches thereof, not exceeding twenty dollars for each offense which may be recovered by indictment or on complaint before a district court or trial justice, and shall ensure to the town or to such uses as it may direct.

(1) For directing and managing their prudential affairs, preserving peace and good order, and maintaining their internal police. All other purposes specified relate to particular matters having no connection with the assessment of taxes, the question, therefore, first comes as to whether the purposes sought to be accomplished by the proposed ordinance come within the scope of the authority here granted.

It is said in the case of Cox vs. Segee, 206 Mass. 330, at page 332, this general provision that laws of this class of miscellaneous subjects affecting the accommodation and convenience of the inhabitants, which have been placed under the municipal jurisdiction of towns, by statute or by usage.

The case goes on to say: "The power to levy proportionate and reasonable assessments and taxes is vested solely in the legislative branch of the government, and the raising of the public revenue by taxation is not dependent upon local usage, but since St. 1835, c. 50, has been regulated by a uniform statutory system applicable to all the inhabitants of the commonwealth."

"While entitled in its municipal capacity to all the privileges and benefits of local self-government, so far as conferred by the general laws, yet the town not having been granted authority to enact an ordinance relative to the duties of assessors, such ordinance was held to be invalid. No specific authority to make an ordinance such as the one proposed is to be found in the statutes relative to the assessment of local taxes, or elsewhere, and it may be said to, in some respects, conflict with the provisions of sections 21, 22, 26, 37 and 38 of chapter 55 of the general laws. These sections are as follows:

Section 21. The assessors shall assess state taxes including all lawful assessments by the commonwealth for which they receive warrants under the preceding section, county taxes duly authorized to them, town taxes voted by their respective towns and all taxes duly voted and certified by fire, water, light and improvement districts there. Such district taxes shall be subject to the law relative to the assessment and collection of town taxes, so far as applicable. Except as otherwise provided, all taxes shall be assessed as of April 1.

Section 35. Assessors shall receive a true and correct valuation of the list brought in by each person, unless, on being thereto required by the assessors, such person refuses to answer

Baby Specialists.

THAT there are Physicians who specialize on Infant ailments you know. All Physicians understand Infant troubles: all Physicians treat them. It is his profession, his duty, to know human ills from the Stork to the Great Beyond.

But in serious cases he calls in the Specialist. Why? He knows as every Mother knows, or ought to know, that Baby is just a baby, needing special treatment, special remedies.

Can a Mother be less thoughtful? Can a Mother try to relieve Baby with a remedy that she would use for herself? Ask yourself; and answer honestly!

Always remember that Baby is just a baby. And remembering this you will remember that Fletcher's Castoria is made especially for Infants and Children.

Children Cry For

The False and the True.

Advertising by the use of large space, the expenditure of huge sums of money have placed on the market, have put in your home, perhaps, many articles that today have been discarded, as you will readily admit.

Do you recall anything that has more modestly appealed to the public than has Fletcher's Castoria: modest in all its claims, pleading at all times—and truthfully—for our babies?

The big splash, the misleading claims may win for a time, but the honest truth-telling advertiser is like the old story of the tortoise that beat the hare.

Mothers everywhere, and their daughters, now mothers, speak frankly, glowingly, enthusiastically in praise of Fletcher's Castoria. Speak of it lovingly as a friend that has brought comfort, cheer and smiles to their little one.

To them: to these true mothers no argument can induce them to set aside their bottle of Castoria, their old friend, that they might try even another and unknown remedy for babies. Then, would YOU think of going to YOUR OWN medicine chest to find relief for Baby's troubles? Can you not separate the false from the true?

On oath all necessary inquiries as to the nature and amount of his property.

Section 36. Assessors shall ascertain as nearly as possible the particulars of the personal estate, and of the real estate in possession or occupation, as owner or otherwise, of any person not bringing in such list, and shall estimate its just value, according to their best information and belief.

Section 37. Such estimate shall be entered in the valuation book, and, except as provided in section sixty-one, shall be conclusive upon any person not seasonably bringing in such list, unless he shows a reasonable excuse for the omission.

Section 38. The assessors of each city and town shall at the time appointed therefor make a fair cash valuation of all the estate, real and personal, subject to taxation therein, and, in cities, the assessors may, in any year, divide the city into convenient assessment districts.

Under these provisions an owner of real estate could fully comply with the law by annually filing a list of his property under section 35 and answering under oath "all necessary inquiries as to the nature and extent of his property." In so far as the other proposed ordinance imposes any other or further obligation in this relation, or provides any other or different consequences for his failure to file such a list than is provided under sections 35 and 37, it would be invalid.

The purpose sought to be accomplished by the proposed ordinance might well be accomplished under the existing statutes by the assessors requiring the information referred to in the proposed ordinance to be given by real estate owners upon the submission by them of their lists under section 35 upon the theory that such questions amounted to "necessary inquiries as to the nature and amount of his property."

Inasmuch as the proposed ordinance seeks to impose further and different obligations and consequences upon real estate owners in relation to providing information relative to their taxable property than are imposed by the statutes governing the same subject matter, it is my opinion that the proposed ordinance is invalid and that the remedy sought must be obtained through the legislature.

Respectfully,
EDWARD J. TIERNEY,
City Solicitor.

WAS BORN IN EAST CHELMSFORD

By the death of Ernest J. Edmunds in Cliftondale last Tuesday, one of the best known educators in the east is removed. He was well known in this city, having been born in East Chelmsford March 21, 1851. He received his elementary education in the schools of Chelmsford and entered Dartmouth college, where he was graduated in 1875. Shortly after his graduation, he secured a position on the teaching staff of the Irvington schools and later went to Framingham. Later he was elected superintendent of schools in the Sandwich-Bourne district on the Cape. Twenty-five years ago Mr. Edmunds opened a teachers' agency in Boston, which he conducted for a long time. He is survived by a wife, Mrs. Mabel Edmunds, and two daughters, Mary J. of Washington, D. C., and Elizabeth of Cliftondale.

EDDIE GATH OF THE BROADWAYS HEADS THE LIST IN RICARD'S TWILIGHT LEAGUE CONTEST

Popularity Contest Was Big Success, the Total Vote Being 335,869—Votes Received From Idaho and California—Ricard Congratulated

Since the close of the Twilight League popularity contest last Saturday, which has been conducted by Frank Ricard, the Central street jeweler, in conjunction with The Sun, his clerks have been kept busy counting the votes. In the final tabulation, Eddie Gath of the Broadways tops the list, with a total of $5,182. Ned Condon of the "Caseys" is second with 70,597, Pare of the Centralville is third with 37,244, and John Philip "Maboney" Souza of the Massachusetts comes fourth with a fine vote of 31,351. A total vote of 335,869 was cast in this contest.

As prizes for the "boys," as Frank Ricard likes to call them, he has donated $100, splitting it into purses of $50, $25, $15, and $10 for the four winners.

In each issue of The Sun, since the opening of the league, there was printed one vote on the sporting page. The contest has attracted widespread notice throughout the country. Mr. Ricard having received letters, containing Sun votes from as far west as Idaho and California. These letters have commended Frank for being such a good sport and for taking such an interest in the sporting life of the community.

Eddie Gath, second baseman of the Broadway team, the winner of this year's contest, has made himself popular with the fans who have attended the league games by his quiet but businesslike manner on the diamond, and they have shown their appreciation of his fine playing ability and popularity by bestowing on him the highest honor in their possession, the most popular player in the Twilight League of 1922.

Ned Condon, who garnered second place, trailing Gath by 5000 votes, has also impressed the fans with his conduct on the ball field. No matter what the score, Ned was in there fighting for his team every minute and if there is anything honest fan like it is a fighting spirit in behalf of one's team. He has also won favor because of his ability as a player, not only in the field, but also at the bat. Ned has made himself a great favorite with the children throughout the city and they carried every paper they could pay their hands on and clipped the votes for their favorite.

Duncan Pare of the Centralville took a great jump in the race and finished third in the final standing, getting 37,244 votes. Pare won the support of the fans because of his fine work in the outfield of the Centralville team. He has helped them to win many games by his strong stickwork and the fans showed their appreciation of his efforts. He was in the game every minute and when things looked blackest for his side he only fought the harder.

John Souza, or "Maboney" as he was familiarly known to the throngs on the common, plays the left field for the Massachusetts. John became a great favorite with the fans because of his sunny disposition and his worth as a ball player and finished fourth, polling 31,351 votes. Although a member of the Massachusetts team, which assumed the standing of the South End club when they withdrew from the league and resubmitted in the cellar during the season (all last Tuesday night, John Philip was in the game every minute he was on the field and played a stellar game in the field. He became a great favorite with the fans and they had great amusement on the nights that he played.

The idea of a popularity contest originated with Mr. Ricard some years ago when his store was located on Merrimack street. At that time he staged a contest for the prettiest girl in Lowell. This vote created great interest throughout the city and was a splendid success. The successful competitor received a valuable prize in virtue of her choice as "Miss Lowell." He then duplicated this contest in Lawrence, where it was even a greater success, because of the experience he had gained in running the first one here in Lowell.

When the Twilight League was organized two years ago, Mr. Ricard became greatly interested in it. One evening the members of the different teams were gathered in his store and speculation was rife as to which winning team would be. As the project was in its infancy, Mr. Ricard conceived a plan to keep the league in action. He offered a cup to the team that should win the pennant that year.

He received the congratulations of so many players at the close of the contest that he decided he would do something for the "boys," as the previous affair had been for the winning team. A representative of The Sun was present and they decided that it would be a good idea to conduct a contest for the most popular player of the 1921 Twilight League. As an incentive for the success of the plan he offered $100 in prizes. The contest was won by Tommy Green.

The wonderful expansion of this contest is shown in the great increase in the vote for 1922 as compared with 1921. The total vote cast in 1921 was 175,559, while 335,869 votes, nearly double the amount, were cast this year. The vote came in to the store in ten and twelve thousand lots and the friends of the various players have been busy all season gathering their offerings together.

Contributions are to be extended to Mr. Ricard for the wonderful manner in which he put this affair across, and also for the interest he has shown in the Twilight League since its inception. He deserves real thanks and to be classed as a "real sport" who is always ready to do something for the "boys." Mr. Ricard also extends his thanks and appreciation to The Sun for the co-operation which it has given him in the conduct of this contest. Both The Sun and Mr. Ricard extend their congratulations to the winners and to all those who were in the contest. The result of the contest was as follows:

appearances, there was no loss in the number of workers.

A committee from the United Textile Workers of America is scheduled for a conference with officials of the Pacific mills later in the day to arrange for the return of the members of unions who have voted to accept the company's proposal of yesterday.

It is probable that there will be no general return of workers before next week at the earliest, and possibly later.

The dyers and finishers, the only body in the United Textile Workers who have not yet officially accepted the offer, have been called for a meeting this morning to act on the proposal. It is generally believed that they will accept it.

With the settlement of the strike against the Pacific mills, the United Textile Workers will, officials say, increase their activity now against the Acadia mill, the next largest mill in the strike attempting operation.

WAS A BROKEN-DOWN WOMAN

Then I Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicines

Donaldsonville, La.—"I write with pleasure to praise your medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—which has done so much to restore my health. I was a broken-down woman until my husband brought me a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and one of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine. I had been having pains every month and at intervals between, was weak and seemed to be smothering at times, but in a week I felt like another woman. I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sensitive Wash. It did me a lot of good too. I cannot praise your medicines too much and will be more than glad to recommend them to any woman who is suffering from female troubles. You may print my testimonial, as it is true."

Mrs. T. A. LANDRY, 612 Miss. St., Donaldsonville, La.

Note Mrs. Landry's words—"as it is true." Every letter recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is genuine. It is a statement telling the merits of these medicines just as the women in your own neighborhood tell each other about them. For fifty years Lydia E. Coal Supply for Schools a session owing to the lack of fuel. An interruption of a regular session is considered extremely detrimental to school work in view of the fact that classes are planned according to a certain schedule.

There are one or two avenues out of the difficulty of a coal shortage. It is possible to burn oil, wood and other combinations of fuel. The oil proposition is out of the question for the present. It would cost thousands of dollars and a lot of time to install oil burning plants in the schools. Wood would be only a fair substitute, and it is doubtful if it could be used to advantage.

Situation Clearing
Some of the school boilers are fitted for the burning of bituminous coal exclusively, while others of them have used hard coal almost entirely. The soft coal situation seems to be clearing up and it is possible that soft coal will be pressed into service here entirely.

A few weeks ago the purchasing agent stated that he was considering a plan to buy coke with which to heat some of the schools. The mayor said today that he had not been advised of any such plan. At the present time coke has taken a big jump in price and is becoming hard to get.

If coke or wood were used as a heating medium, it would require almost constant attention to keep the fires burning. Coke gives off a great deal of heat but the fire-boxes must be constantly fed.

Perhaps the conference will develop some way out of the difficulty. Some step will be taken immediately it is believed, to provide for an ample supply of fuel to keep the school boilers running. It is thought there is enough coal on hand to carry the schools along for a period, but this supply too, depends to a certain extent upon the kind of weather we have. If the fall is early, as is predicted from many quarters, and cold weather sets in, the supply will not last as long as if the weather were mild. Some solution to the proposition will probably be forthcoming after the conference.

Budapest Hotel Employees Strike

They were married in New York, July 19, 1919. Miss Myers is the daughter of the late Rabbi Isadore Myers, religious leader and author.

German Marks 20 for a Cent

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—German marks were quoted today at 5 1-8 cents a hundred, or approximately 20 for a cent, as compared with 6 3-4 cents a hundred last night, and ten cents a week ago. French francs also sank to the years' lowest level, being quoted at 7.70 cents each, as compared with 7.88 1-2 cents yesterday. Slight reactions also took place in demand sterling and other European remittances.

STATE FUEL HEAD ANGRY SENTENCED AND FINED IN LIQUOR CASE

Says Coal Concerns Close to Federal Administrator "Getting Theirs"

LANSING, Mich., Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press)—Coal concerns close to the fuel administration are "getting their heads in a spin" over the action of the federal court today charged with keeping and selling liquor. Joseph Mitchell, another of the fuel concerns, was fined $50 and John Smith, Howard Harding and his son Carl, were found not guilty. Louder and Mease appealed. They were held in $2000 bail.

The Hawk was seized off Magnolia on August 14, when an attempt was made to land liquor in a small boat. The schooner was pursued and captured but not before a large quantity of the liquor had been thrown overboard.

EX-MAYOR OLES OF YOUNGSTOWN ARRESTED

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Aug. 24.—George L. Oles, who resigned as mayor two months ago after a stormy administration today was arrested and taken to the police station in a patrol wagon to face charges of obstructing the sidewalk in front of his downtown market. The complaint was made by Morris Squires, proprietor of a rival market. Squires and Oles have engaged in bitter personal exchanges since they were both elected to the office of mayor for a long period. The former mayor gave bond of $10 for his appearance later for a hearing.

CO. M TO START FOR DEVENS TOMORROW

Some 70 men, including two officers of Company M, 181st Infantry, will leave this city tomorrow night, minus the balance of the company, for Camp Devens where the company will go into camp for 15 days. The members of the company at the assembly in Westford street at 7:30 o'clock. According to strict military discipline, two trucks will draw up before the building at 8 o'clock.

The company will be in charge of Lt. George D. Crowell, who will have under his command other officers. The commanding officer of the company said today that plans have been completed for the encampment and that he believed the training period would be the most successful in the history of the national guard unit.

Company M is a machine gun company as is every fourth company of a battalion. It will carry a complement of four Browning water-cooled machine guns of the 1917 model. The members of the company are being retrained in the use of this machine gun unit. The company has not yet been completed and at the present time many changes are being made. Besides M company there are 18 other companies in the 181st and all of them will be in the Ayer encampment until Sept. 9.

The 181st is the best of the national guard units in the state, as both the 101st and 104th have been at the camp for their summer activities. While the men will leave here on trucks, they will march into camp in full military style, as it is planned to complete the last 12 miles of the journey on foot.

The trucks will take the men to a point about one mile and a half outside of West Acton where camp will be made for the night. Saturday morning the company will march into Ayer. Light packs will be in order, as during the hot months of the year the heavy packs are seldom needed on the march of this kind. One thing that will greatly lessen the work of the hikers is the fact that this company carries no rifles. Being a machine gun unit the men are equipped with side arms only.

Labor Day afternoon has been set aside as Lowell day at the camp. The city officials will be invited to the encampment to inspect the company on that day.

While the main part of the company leaves tomorrow night the equipment will be shipped by rail and the advance guard will report tomorrow morning. Two trucks will carry the necessary baggage of the men to the camp tonight. This order has been issued to comply with the one calling for a light pack. The advance guard will consist of a mess sergeant, cook and three privates. It will arrive at the camp some time late tomorrow morning and will prepare immediately for the coming of the main body.

The company will be in charge of Lt. George D. Crowell, who will have under his command other officers. The commanding officer of the company said today that plans have been completed for the encampment and that he believed the training period would be the most successful in the history of the national guard unit.

Company M is a machine gun company as is every fourth company of a battalion. It will carry a complement of four Browning water-cooled machine guns of the 1917 model. The members of the company are being retrained in the use of this machine gun unit. The company has not yet been completed and at the present time many changes are being made. Besides M company there are 18 other companies in the 181st and all of them will be in the Ayer encampment until Sept. 9.

The 181st is the best of the national guard units in the state, as both the 101st and 104th have been at the camp for their summer activities. While the men will leave here on trucks, they will march into camp in full military style, as it is planned to complete the last 12 miles of the journey on foot.

The trucks will take the men to a point about one mile and a half outside of West Acton where camp will be made for the night. Saturday morning the company will march into Ayer. Light packs will be in order, as during the hot months of the year the heavy packs are seldom needed on the march of this kind. One thing that will greatly lessen the work of the hikers is the fact that this company carries no rifles. Being a machine gun unit the men are equipped with side arms only.

Labor Day afternoon has been set aside as Lowell day at the camp. The city officials will be invited to the encampment to inspect the company on that day.

While the main part of the company leaves tomorrow night the equipment will be shipped by rail and the advance guard will report tomorrow morning. Two trucks will carry the necessary baggage of the men to the camp tonight. This order has been issued to comply with the one calling for a light pack. The advance guard will consist of a mess sergeant, cook and three privates. It will arrive at the camp some time late tomorrow morning and will prepare immediately for the coming of the main body.

CALL COAL INCREASE "LEGALIZED ROBBERY"

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press)—Coal mine operators in Central Illinois today announced they had increased the price of coal 12 1/2 cents a ton.

The rise was followed by a protest from anti-trust officials of the United Mine Workers, who termed the increase "legalized robbery."

STATE POLICE AT WARE MILL

WARE, Aug. 24.—Four state policemen arrived here today to assist the Ware police in patrol duty at the mills of the Otis company, which resumed recently. The company, in requesting the presence of the officers, said that more employees would return to work if assured of protection.

NEW HAVEN MAKES DEMAND

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 24.—The New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad statement today says that its coal cars have not deteriorated since the shipment of the new cars and the new claims said to have been made by ship chandlery on July 1. The New Haven road had 1413 home coal cars in last order, the statement says, while on August 19, the last date for which figures are available, there were 1355 coal cars in the order. The figures represent normal conditions, it was said.

SKILL PRACTICED

White playing with companions near his home in Fowler road yesterday. Frederick Edwards, 24, was seen yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. James A. Edwards, of 94 Fowler road, fell into a cellar and sustained a severe injury. He was taken to the Lowell General hospital, where it was stated today that although the little fellow is resting comfortably, his name has been placed on the dangerous list.

Learn Fixers Reject Offer

LAWRENCE, Mass., Aug. 21.—Members of the Local Fixers' Union, affiliated with the American Federation of Textile Operatives, voted this morning to reject the offer made yesterday by the Pacific mills, according to an announcement of Organizer Oliver Chittan. A resolution, according to the strategy board of the United Textile Workers of America, for recommending acceptance of the offer was adopted.

STOCK MARKET BRIEF BUT IMPORTANT WIRE DESPATCHES

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(Teletype by railroads) executives of the railroad brotherhoods peace offer imparted a reactionary trend to opening prices on the New York stock exchange today. The stocks, oil, tobacco and some unclassified shares moved to higher ground, but calls, shipping and gas shares sold at concession. New highs for the year were established by Consolidated Cigar, Reynolds Tobacco, Dome Mines, Public Service of New Jersey, Brown Shoe and Eastman Kodak. Mexican Petroleum sold off at the opening, but soon strengthened and moved up one point with sympathy for the settlement of the Mexican expropriation question. The advance in the stock market was led by Crucible with a gain of 1 1/2 points, was attributed to improved conditions in that industry and expectations of higher prices. Crucible in falls were largely fractional. Marine preferred dropped one point to another new low.

The regular trading continued in the forenoon. Pool operations were of special interest in the rapid rise of special stocks, but there were also indications of a break in the market. The market was generally in the belief that railroads generally were in good position to continue the movement of the market. Other serious interruptions, Oils, independent steels, motors, merchandise and public utilities were in good demand at prices of 1 to 2 points. The market was generally in the belief that railroads generally were in good position to continue the movement of the market. Other serious interruptions, Oils, independent steels, motors, merchandise and public utilities were in good demand at prices of 1 to 2 points.

Strength of high priced calls which improved 1 to 2 points with several high priced calls, including the active selling of shipplings, rubbers and American Telephone in the afternoon. North Pacific rose 2 1/2 to a new high, while Canadian Pacific, Atchafalpa, Canadian National, Northwestern, Missouri Pacific preferred and American preferred were 1 to 2 points better. Tobacco also climbed on the announcement of an increased dividend on tobacco products. American Telephone made a sudden downward dive of 1 1/2 points on the announcement of a new stock issue of $15,000,000. Marine preferred extended its break to 1 1/2 and U. S. Rubber and Keller Springs were also depressed severely.

Some of the industrialists were subjected to further liquidation in the last hour, which was accompanied by a further drop in the market. The closing was irregular.

LOCAL TEXTILE STRIKE

Strike Committee Chairman Says Local Mills Should Follow Lead of Pacific

Commenting on the strike settlement in the Pacific mills at Lawrence, John Hanley, chairman of local textile strike committee, stated this morning that similar settlement can be reached in this city if the mill officials will only see the light and get busy. "Speaking for the strikers of the Hamilton, Mrs. Co., Bay State Cotton Corp., and Massachusetts mills," said Mr. Hanley, "I sincerely believe that there is no need of a conference between mill officials and employees, all that is to be done is for the agents to announce a similar proposition as that advanced by the Pacific mill officials in the down-river city, and the strikers will return to work."

"Ever since the first day of the strike we have been ready to meet the mill officials and talk business with them. We are still ready to meet them, but I firmly believe there is no need of a conference. The press dispatches announce that the officials of the Lawrence mill have agreed not to announce wage reductions in the mill in the future without first conferring with their employees, which means that they are giving them collective bargaining. That is what I have been preaching right along and as I have stated on many occasions, had the agents of the three local mills affected by strikers conferred with their operatives before posting wage reduction notices, the strike could have been ended."

Mr. Hanley is confident that within a short time the officials of the local mills affected by strikers will come to terms. In his opinion the Lawrence settlement is the beginning of the end of textile strikes in New England.

The committee of the Lowell Textile strikers are now working under protest against a 12 1/2 per cent wage reduction held a conference with the treasurer of the company last Tuesday, but the result of the meeting was not made public. Tomorrow evening the employees of the mill will meet with strike leaders in Central street and will then make an official report of what transpired at the conference.

LABOR DAY SERVICE
Rev. Karl P. Meister, pastor of the Centralville Methodist church will conduct a Labor day service at his church Sunday morning, Sept. 2, and he has extended an invitation to the members of the various organizations affiliated with the Trades & Labor council to attend the service. His topic will be "Industrial Democracy." The service will be held at 10:30 a.m. in the morning. I shall take for my subject, "Industrial Democracy."

"Hoping that the invitation may be accepted and a goodly number may find it convenient to attend, I am,

"KARL P. MEISTER, Pastor."

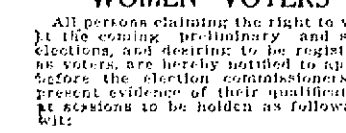

It was stated at headquarters this morning that the invitation had been accepted and that the council will be well represented at the service.

WELL KNOWN VETERAN DIED YESTERDAY

Mr. James Riley, a well known resident of the Immaculate Conception parish for many years, died yesterday at his home at 232 Concord street, after a long illness. He leaves three daughters, Mrs. Cornelius Walsh, Mrs. Gilbert White and Mrs. William Merrill, one son, Frederick Riley; 17 grand children and several nieces and nephews. He was a member of Post 12, A.O.U.W., being at one time commander of the post. He was a member of the company P. 2nd Mass. Volunteers from 1861 to 1865.

The deceased passed through some of the most terrible battles of the Civil War and was wounded three times and never fully recovered from the effects of the wounds. He was carried from the field at Cedar Creek and fought all through the campaign under Gen. Grant. He was finally wounded at the battle of Gettysburg. He was one of the youngest veterans in the war, having enlisted before he was 15 years old and in this respect was a rival of the late John Welch, who was named the "Youngest Soldier" of the army. Mr. Riley was a highly esteemed by his fellow veterans and all who had known his fighting spirit in the war. Although he attained a ripe old age, he was young in spirit and always cheerful. For a man of his years, he fully had the sympathy of a wide circle of friends in their bereavement.

MISS DIXON SELECTED AS "MISS LOWELL"

Out of a bovy of close to 300 pretty girls, Miss Anna Dixon of 41 Wamsley street, a popular and well known young woman, was last evening selected as "Miss Lowell," which means that she was judged to be the prettiest girl in the city. This occurred at the Casino at a benefit dance conducted for the strikers of the Boston & Maine carshops at Billerica. The affair was attended by over 500 people and a feature of the evening's program was the grand march in which all contestants participated.

MISS ANNA DIXON

which all contestants for beauty honors participated. The contestants marched around the hall and passed in front of the judges' stand, and a few minutes later it was announced that Miss Dixon had been crowned as "Miss Lowell." The judges, who were as follows: John Merrill, William G. Smith, Frank Richard, William Cleary and James Cleary.

The prize awarded Miss Dixon was a handsome silver loving cup, properly engraved and the presentation was made by Mayor George H. Brown, who took occasion to compliment the judges for their work and a few minutes later it was announced that Miss Dixon had been crowned as "Miss Lowell." The judges, who were as follows: John Merrill, William G. Smith, Frank Richard, William Cleary and James Cleary.

NO LABOR DAY PARADE HERE THIS YEAR

There will be no Labor Day parade in Lowell this year. The question was definitely settled at a meeting of the Trades & Labor council held last evening. This action was taken because it was felt that the $1,000 appropriated by the city council for a labor demonstration, could serve a better purpose by being transferred to the out-door relief fund of the city. During the meeting there was some talk of holding a big mass meeting for the organized workers of Lowell and their friends on Labor day, and this matter was referred to the executive board of the council.

The meeting was presided over by John W. Bury and routine business was transacted. It was announced that tonight there will be a meeting of the presidents and secretaries of all crafts that are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor to discuss the strike question. It was also stated that a check for $50 has been received from the Paramount Vignettes union for the strike benefit fund, bringing the total given by this organization up to $160.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Man Charged With Assault and Battery Turns Tables on Complainant

Joseph Zumwalt was arraigned in district court this morning on the charge of larceny on a warrant that was sworn out in December, 1917, five years ago. The man is alleged to have stolen 23 yards of cloth from the Merrimack Manufacturing Co. at that time, and the name of Major Noyes is appended to the warrant. The case was continued for a week.

Zumwalt had some trouble with John Sinowski and swung out a warrant against him for assault and battery. Sinowski became peeved and reported to the police that there was a warrant for Zumwalt. The complainant in the assault case, charging him with larceny. The officers looked the matter up and found the ancient warrant. Zumwalt was immediately arrested and booked for larceny, on the warrant dated December, 1917.

When questioned, he admitted that he had worked for the Merrimack mills about five years ago. He said that he went to Holyoke shortly after and later returned to Lowell. The case was continued and in the meantime Major Noyes intends to look up the circumstances of the affair by himself.

Harry Hingashian appeared before the court again this morning on a new complaint of threatening his wife. He is already under bail on an assault and battery charge. The new complaint was continued to Aug. 26 and he was held in $200 bonds. The defendant was in court yesterday on the original charge and the man's son informed Judge Enright that his father had threatened his mother's life since his last appearance. The new warrant was then made out and the man arraigned.

The case of Victoriano Levesque and Valentine Pileau, charged with illegal keeping of liquor, were continued to September 1. The case of Joseph James, who was alleged to have violated the motor laws by stopping and giving his name after running over a dog, was continued to Aug. 30. Jos. Sinowski, who was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery on Joseph Zumwalt, was held to August 31.
